

Contents

Preface	9
Introduction	13
Toward an Ethics of Vigilance: Créolité and Creolization
Derek Walcott Exasperating Theory	19
Ginette Ramassamy Which "Ethics of Vigilance" To Put into Place?	21
Stuart Hall Créolité and the Process of Creolization	27
Derek Walcott More Than Criticism	43
Open Session	47
Modernity, Creolization, and Globalization
Petrine Archer-Straw Paradise, Primitivism, and Parody	63
Virginia Pérez-Ratton Central America and Creolization: The Invisible Caribbean?	77

Gerardo Mosquera Global Islands	87
Open Session	93

Creole Systems and Cultural Production

Dame Pearlette Louisy Nation Languages and National Development in the Caribbean: Reclaiming Our Own Voices	107
Annie Paul Sound Systems Against the "Unsound System" of Babylon: Rude/Lewd Lyrics vs. Nude Tourists in Jamaica	117
Jean Bernabé Creolization, Decreolization, and Linguistic Development	137
Gerardo Mosquera From	145
Isaac Julien Creolizing Vision	149
Open Session	157

Cosmopolitanism, Urban Culture, and Creole Identity in the 21st Century

Juan Flores The Diaspora Strikes Back: Créolité in the Hood	165
Françoise Vergès Kiltir Kreol: Processes and Practices of Créolité and Creolization	179

Stuart Hall Creolization, Diaspora, and Hybridity in the Context of Globalization	185
Open Session	199
 Writing Creole: Narrative, Literary Production, and the Language of Creoleness
Robert Chaudenson To Write a Creole, to Write in Creole	215
Jean Claude Carpanin Marimoutou Literature, the Imaginary, and Creolization: Texts and Intertexts	225
Derek Walcott The Length of the Breath	241
Open Session	245
 Contributors	269

