

Contents

Acknowledgements .....	15
Introduction .....	16
 I. The Interplay between International Law and ‘Globalisation’ .....	 19
1. International Law and ‘Globalisation’ .....	21
2. Cultural Globalisation and International Economic Law .....	22
3. Human Rights: the Essence of a Global Conscience and of Converging Fundamental Values .....	24
4. International Security in a Globalised World .....	24
5. Erosion of State Sovereignty? .....	29
6. The Density of International Standards .....	30
7. The ‘Fragmentation’ of International Law .....	31
8. The Impact on the Structure of International Law .....	32
 II. The Forces behind the Dynamics of International Law .....	 33
1. Rationality .....	33
a. Self-Interest and Reciprocity .....	33
b. Common Responsibility for Global Goods .....	35
c. Mutual Respect for Diversity .....	35
2. Empathy and the Sacredness of Man .....	36
3. Elastic Rules and General Clauses .....	40
a. ‘International Peace and Security’ (UN Charter) .....	40
b. Proportionality .....	41
c. Fair and Equitable Treatment .....	42
4. Values behind International Norms .....	43
5. Institutions with a Broad Understanding of Their Mandate: the Self-Empowerment of Treaty Bodies .....	44

III. Global Morality, Cosmopolitical Commemoration and Interpretation of Experiences: Towards a Universal Collective Conscience?	47
1. Globalisation of 'Moral Sentiments' and 'General Rules of Morality'	47
2. Experience and Collective Conscience	49
3. Application of Legal Rules as Interpretation of Collective Experiences: The Case of Human Rights	50
4. The Impact of Globalisation on the Collective Conscience of the International Community	52
5. Representation, Registration and Collective Remembering of Mass Atrocities and Other Cases of Human Suffering	53
a. The Importance of Formal Registration	54
b. The Contribution of Mechanisms under International Law	54
c. International Criminal Justice	55
IV. New Structures of Rule-Making	57
1. The Erosion of the Principle of Consent: Extensive Treaty Interpretation	57
2. 'Constitutionalisation' of International Law	68
3. 'Technocratic' Rule-Making	71
4. Tendencies towards a Jurists' Law	72
5. Globalised Legislation and Democracy	72
V. Disaggregation of the State	75
1. Inter-Agency Cooperation	76
2. Fight against Corruption	76
3. Indigenous Rights and Exploitation of Resources	77
4. Necessity as Justification for Non-Compliance	79
VI. Layers of Normativity: Ethics, 'Soft Law' and 'Hard Law'	81
1. Moral Standards and International Law	81
2. Hardening of 'Soft Law'	83
3. Softening of 'Hard' Law	85

Contents	11
VII. The Look behind the Veil of Sovereignty: Standards of Governance .....	87
1. Good Governance .....	87
2. Regional Arrangements and Democracy .....	88
3. The Impact of International Law on Political Structures and on the Institutional Order of States .....	89
4. Supremacy of International Law: Emerging Monist Tendencies ..	90
5. The Relation between Rule of Law, Democracy and Economic Development .....	91
6. Transparency and Consistency of Governmental Action .....	92
7. Backlash against Industrialised Countries .....	93
VIII. Human Rights in a Globalised World .....	95
1. The Inspirational and Empiric Sources of Human Rights .....	95
a. The Experience of Human Suffering .....	95
b. The Push for an Open Society and the Rule of Law .....	95
c. The 'Constitutional' Function of Human Rights: Human Rights         as a Cornerstone of a Democratic and Pluralist Society .....	97
2. Litigant Concept of Human Rights versus a Confucian Model ..	99
a. The Western Model of Individual Rights .....	99
b. The Confucian Approach .....	102
c. Convergence and Divergence .....	103
d. A Competitive Background of the Western Model .....	105
3. Human Dignity: The New Interpretative Reserve of Human Rights Law .....	105
IX. Standards of Rationality .....	109
1. Proportionality .....	110
2. The Empire of Scientific Evidence .....	112
3. Consistency .....	114
4. Rationality and Socio-Economic Considerations .....	118
5. A Caveat on Rationality as the Sibling of an Anthropocentric Vision .....	118
6. Economic Rationality: Adjustment Programs and 'Conditionality' .....	119

X.	The Changing Role of the State .....	121
1.	Old and New Asymmetries .....	121
2.	Standard-Setting .....	123
3.	Jurisdiction of Courts .....	125
4.	International Mechanisms of Dispute Settlement .....	127
5.	Regulation of Financial Markets .....	132
XI.	The Role of Private Actors .....	133
1.	Transnational Corporations and Corporate Social Responsibility .	133
2.	Enforcing Corporate Social Responsibility .....	134
a.	Judicial Enforcement .....	134
b.	Monitoring by National Contact Points under the OECD Guidelines .....	135
3.	Private Rule-Making .....	136
a.	Rating Agencies .....	136
b.	Accounting Standards .....	137
c.	Governance of Cyberspace .....	137
XII.	Climate, Water, Biodiversity and Beyond: The Administration of Global Commons and Other International Resources .....	139
1.	Categories of Global Goods .....	139
2.	The Majoritarian Fallacy and the Unfettered Outsider .....	140
3.	International Institutional Arrangements .....	140
XIII.	Legal Pluralism .....	143
1.	Legal Pluralism as the Sibling of Social and Religious Heterogeneity .....	143
2.	Normative Autonomy of Indigenous and Other Local Communities	144
3.	Deference to Customary Rules beyond an Indigenous Context ...	148
4.	Religious Communities .....	148
5.	Legal Pluralism as a Vehicle of Cultural Diversity .....	150
6.	Legal Pluralism and the Clash with Fundamental or Human Rights .....	151
a.	Customary Law and Gender Equality .....	151

Contents	13
b. 'Hybridisation' of Principles as a Means to Settle Legal Conflicts	151
c. Criminal Sanctions	152
d. Human Rights as a Limitation on Cultural Diversity	153
7. 'Interlegality' and Cosmopolitan Legal Pluralism	155
XIV. Human Rights as a Platform for Cultural Diversity: Freedom of Religion and Guarantee of Property	157
1. Freedom of Religion	157
2. The Protection of Property Rights in Land	158
XV. Law as Culture and the Application of International Rules	163
1. The Law as Reflection of Cultural Characteristics	163
2. The Harmonising Impact of International Rules: Clashes with Socio-Cultural Concepts on a Domestic Level	163
3. 'Living Instruments' and Judicial Activism as a Threat to Cultural Diversity	166
4. The Support for Dynamic Interpretation: 'Consensus' and its Pitfalls	170
5. Dynamic Interpretation and Judicial Activism: The Relevance of Context	173
a. The Nature of Rights and Obligations	173
b. Taking the Social and Economic Context into Account	174
c. Constructive Consensus: Freezing National Policy Choices	175
d. Judicial Activism and Its Anti-Democratic Bias	176
e. Extensive Interpretation as a Challenge for Democracy	176
f. The 'Democratic Override'	177
g. Anti-Democratic Antagonisms: Activist Rulings in Conflict	180
h. Constructive Consensus: Judicial Activism Raised to Higher             Power	181
i. Reservations as a Means to Maintain Socio-Economic Options             and to Preserve Legal Culture	182
j. Transitional Justice and International Law	183
k. Pluralist Adjudication under International Treaties	188
XVI. Democratic Dilemmas: Views from Within and from Without	191

XVII. Diversity .....	195
1. Public Morals .....	196
2. Margins of Appreciation and the Principle of Subsidiarity in Human Rights Law .....	198
3. Human Rights and Pluralism .....	204
4. Antinomies in Diversity .....	205
XVIII. Moral Views and Other Perceptions Rooted in Culture: Between Stability and Volatility in the Face of International Standards .....	207
XIX. Social and Distributive Justice: Challenges on the International Level .....	211
1. Conceptual Problems .....	211
2. Interrelation between Central Authority and Solidarity .....	215
3. Commitment to Basic Social Needs: The Millennium Development Goals and the Sustainable Development Goals ....	216
4. The Fight against Poverty in Context .....	218
5. Economic and Social Rights .....	219
XX. Developing Countries .....	221
1. Recognition of Particular Needs .....	221
2. International Trade Law .....	221
3. Beyond Trade: A Comprehensive Development Policy .....	223
4. Debt Relief .....	224
5. 'Common, but Differentiated Responsibilities' .....	225
XXI. The UN Charter: Different Ways of Reading the Constitution of the International Community .....	229
XXII. Concluding Remarks .....	233
References .....	237
Index .....	251