

The Big Conservation Lie

The Untold Story of Wildlife
Conservation in Kenya

John Mbaria & Mordecai Ogada
2016

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	iii
The Epiphany	1
John Mbaria's Encounter with Unseen Injustice	1
Mordecai Ogada's Rude Awakening	4
1 How Did We Get Here?	7
Hero Worship	10
Arena of Intellectual Contests	17
The Crises Remains	27
2 Conservation NGOs' Grand Delusion	32
The Green Man's Burden: The Cost of the Conservation Model Practiced in Kenya's Drylands	32
3 Role of African Culture in Conservation: Talk is Cheap	76
The Hamlet Died	76
Are Traditional African Conservation Ethics Any Longer Feasible?	98
4 White Corruption in African Conservation	106
5 Debunking the Myths	128
6 The Prostitution and Tyranny of Science	144
7 Conservation: A Thickly Veiled Scheme to Grab Africa's Resources?	158
Manufactured Coincidences	174
Epilogue	186
References	195