

CONTENTS

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Illustrations   | ix  |
| Foreword  | xi  |
| Preface   | xv  |
| Acknowledgments   | xix |
| Part 1   |     |
| 1. Background to the Cinema of Ousmane Sembene                           | 3   |
| 2. Sembene, a Griot of Modern Times                                      | 29  |
| 3. The Africanness of Sembene's Film Language                            | 43  |
| Part 2   |     |
| 4. Borom Sarret (1963): One Day in the Life of aDakar Cartman | 99  |
| 5. Black Girl (1966): From Book to Film                           | 113 |
| 6. Mandabi (1968): Illiteracy versus Bureaucracy                  | 127 |
| 7. Emitai (1971): Myths, Traditions, and Colonialism              | 141 |
| 8. Xala (1974): Realism and Symbolism                             | 149 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 9. Ceddo (1976): A Story of the Past with Contemporary Significance | 165 |
| 10. Conclusion   | 179 |
| Appendix 1 Sembene: A Biographical Sketch                           | 181 |
| Appendix 2 Sembene's Films: Credits                                 | 185 |
| Appendix 3 Sembene's Impact on Filmmaking                           | 191 |
| Bibliography  | 197 |
| Index   | 201 |