

CONTENTS

List of Figures and Table	xi
1 THE PROBLEM BEFORE DUMONT	1
The Entrenched View of Caste	1
The Word 'Caste'	4
Is Caste an Orientalist Construct?	12
2 DUMONT'S THEORY OF CASTE	21
Epistemology and Sociology	21
The Distinctiveness of Caste	25
Status, Power, and Encompassment	30
The Structuralist Interpretation of Caste	31
Dumont's View of Empiricism	35
Dumont's Critique of His Critics	37
3 THE PROBLEM WITH DUMONT'S SOLUTION	39
Why the Problem is not Simply about Caste	39
The Sociological Bridge between Traditional and Modern Societies	41
Power and Legitimacy	45
Structuralism	52
4 THE PURE BRĀHMAṆ AND THE IMPURE PRIEST	54
The Ideal Brāhmaṇ in the Real World	54
Priests and 'Others' as Vessels of Inauspiciousness	68
The Limits of Transcendence	82
5 CASTE AND KINSHIP	87
Hypergamy	87
Isogamy	101
Hierarchy and Endogamy	111

6 CASTE AND KINGSHIP: HOCART'S THEORY	114
Kings and Priests	114
Problems with Hocart's Theory	122
The Ideologies of Caste	131
7 THE COURTS OF KINGS AND WASHERMEN	142
A Model of Caste Systems	142
The Explanation of Caste	158
Bibliography	171
Index	181

FIGURES

1. Raheja's model of orderings of caste and kinsmen in Pahansu	77
2. Raheja's ordering of 'mutuality': Gujars and 'one's own people'	78
3. Gellner's model of the general form of the social structure of agrarian societies	142
4. Hall's model of 'The land of the Brahmans'	146
5. General form of the social structure of complex agrarian societies which are divided between centralized and uncentralized communities	152
6. Social structure from the viewpoint of the king or dominant caste	153
7. Social structure from the viewpoint of a non-dominant Merchant caste	154
8. Social structure from the viewpoint of castes which supply ritual specialists	156

TABLE

1. The Kangra caste hierarchy	91
-------------------------------	----