

Contents

Notes on Contributors	vii
Introduction Louis Maheu	1
Part I: Foundations for Collective Action
Introduction	18
1 Does Social Class Matter in the Study of Social Movements? A Theory of Middle-class Radicalism Klaus Eder	21
2 Social Movements and Class: The Decline of the Marxist Paradigm Jan Pakulski	55
3 Racism and Social Movements Michel Wieviorka	87
4 The New Social Movements Revisited: Reflections on a Sociological Misunderstanding Alberto Melucci	107
Part II: Space, Power and Collective Action
Introduction	120
5 Social Movements in the Transition from State Socialism: Convergence or Divergence? Chris Pickvance	123
6 Social Movements and the Challenge of Urban Politics Henri Lustiger-Thaler and Louis Maheu	151
7 Rethinking Class John Urry	169
Part III: Collective Action: From Politics to Democracy
Introduction	182
8 Rethinking Citizenship and Social Movements: Themes in Contemporary Sociology and Neoconservative Ideology Maurice Roche	186
9 A New Class? The Higher Educated and the New Politics Chris Rootes	220

vi Contents

10	Collective Action and the Paradigm of Individualism Pierre Hamel	236
11	Democracy: From a Politics of Citizenship to a Politics of Recognition Alain Touraine	258
	Index	276