

Gay Signatures

Gay and Lesbian Theory, Fiction and Film in France, 1945–1995

Edited by
Owen Heathcote, Alex Hughes and
James S. Williams

Oxford • New York

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Introduction: Reading Gay Signatures
Owen Heathcote, Alex Hughes and James S. Williams	1
Part I: Theoretical Positions
1 Cruising (Through) Encounters Michael Worton	29
2 Reconsidering 'Gay': Hocquenghem, Identity Politics and the Baroque Bill Marshall	51
3 Are Lesbians Women? The Relationship between Lesbianism and Feminism in the Work of Luce Irigaray and Monique Wittig Renate Günther	73
4 The Outlaw Returns: Homos vs. Tradition in the New Work of Leo Bersani James S. Williams	91
Part II: Narrative Articulations
5 Commodifying Queer: Violette Leduc's Autobiographical Homotextualities Alex Hughes	113
6 'Hardly Grazing', Josiane Balasko's Gazon maudit (1995): The mise-en-textes and mise-en-scène of Sexuality/ies Susan Hayward	131

Contents

7	'A Walk along the side of the Motorway': AIDS and the Spectacular Body of Hervé Guibert Murray Pratt	151
8	Jobs for the Boys? Or: What's New About the Male Hunter in Duvert, Guibert and Jourdan? Owen Heathcote	173
9	Visions of Excess: Filming/Writing the Gay Self in Collard's Savage Nights Brigitte Rollet and James S. Williams	193
	Chronology	209
	Select Bibliography	215
	Index	225