

Western Views of Islam in Medieval and Early Modern Europe

Perception of Other

Edited by

David R. Blanks and Michael Frassetto

St. Martin's Press
New York

1999

Table Of Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1. Western Views of Islam in the Premodern Period: A Brief History of Past Approaches David R. Blanks	11
2. Popular Attitudes Toward Islam in Medieval Europe Jo Ann Hoeppe Morán Cruz	55
3. The Image of the Saracen as Heretic in the Sermons of Ademar of Chabannes Michael Frassetto	83
4. Muslims as Pagan Idolaters in Chronicles of the First Crusade John V. Tolan	97
5. The Essential Enemy: The Image of the Muslim as Adversary and Vassal in the Law and Literature of the Medieval Crown of Aragon Donald J. Kagay	119
6. Arabs and Latins in the Middle Ages: Enemies, Partners, and Scholars Alauddin Samarrai	137
7. Islam in the Glossa Ordinaria Ernest N. Kaulbach	147

8.	"Seven trewe bataylis for Jesus Sake": The Long-Suffering Saracen Palomides Nina Dulin-Mallory	165
9.	Noble Saracen or Muslim Enemy? The Changing Image of the Saracen in Late Medieval Italian Literature Gloria Allaire	173
10.	"New Barbarian" or Worthy Adversary? Humanist Constructs of the Ottoman Turks in Fifteenth-Century Italy Nancy Bisaha	185
11.	Early Modern Orientalism: X Representations of Islam in Sixteenth-and Seventeenth-Century Europe Daniel J. Vitkus	207
	List of Contributors	231
	Index	233