

CONTENTS

Introduction

Social Identity Theory in Retrospect and Prospect	vii
Rupert Brown and Dora Capozza

I Theoretical Perspectives

1 Models, Meanings and Motivations	1
Kay Deaux
2 A Multidimensional Model of Identity: Relating Individual and Group Identities to Intergroup Behaviour	15
Stephen Worchel, Jonathan Iuzzini, Dawna Coutant and Manuela Ivaldi

II Ingroup Bias: Measures and Conditions

3 Valence-Dependent Probability of Ingroup Favouritism between Minimal Groups: An Integrative View on the Positive-Negative Asymmetry in Social Discrimination	33
Sabine Otten and Amélie Mummendey
4 From Incorrect Deductive Reasoning to Ingroup Favouritism	49
Nathalie Scaillet and Jacques-Philippe Leyens
5 Individualism, Collectivism and Social Identity Theory	62
Dora Capozza, Alberto Voci and Orazio Licciardello
6 Comparative Identity, Category Salience and Intergroup Relations	81
María Ros, Carmen Huici and Angel Gómez
7 Measuring Prejudice: Implicit versus Explicit Techniques	96
Anne Maass, Luigi Castelli and Luciano Arcuri

III Social Identity Theory and Change in Intergroup Relations

8 Superordinate Goals versus Superordinate Identity as Bases of Intergroup Cooperation	117
Marilynn B. Brewer
9 The Common Ingroup Identity Model for Reducing Intergroup Bias: Progress and Challenges	133
Samuel L. Gaertner, John F. Dovidio, Jason A. Nier, Brenda S. Banker, Christine M. Ward, Melissa Houlette and Stephenie Loux
10 Multiple Categorization and Social Identity	149
Richard J. Crisp and Miles Hewstone
11 Categorization and Intergroup Anxiety in Intergroup Contact	167
Katy Greenland and Rupert Brown

Conclusion
New Trends in Theory and Research	184
Dora Capozza and Rupert Brown
References	190
Index	222