

Foreword

Carl W. Ernst and Bruce B. Lawrence xi

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction

miriam cooke and Bruce B. Lawrence i

PART I: DEFINING MUSLIM NETWORKS

1 Ibn Battuta's Opportunism:

The Networks and Loyalties of a Medieval Muslim Scholar
Vincent J. Cornell 31

2 A Networked Civilization?

David Gilmartin 51

3 The Network Metaphor and the Mosque Network in Iran, 1978-1979

Charles Kurzman 69

4 The Scope and Limits of Islamic Cosmopolitanism and the Discursive Language of the 'Ulama'

Muhammad Qasim Zaman 84

PART II: IMAGINING MUSLIM NETWORKS

5 The Problem of Islamic Art

Judith Ernst 107

6 Sacred Narratives Linking Iraqi Shiite Women across Time and Space

Tayba Hassan Al Khalifa Sharif 132

7 The Islamic Salon: Elite Women's Religious Networks in Egypt

Samia Serageldin 155

8 Voices of Faith, Faces of Beauty: Connecting American Muslim Women through Azizah

Jamillah Karim 169

PART III: TRACING MUSLIM NETWORKS

- 9 Ideological and Technological Transformations of Contemporary Sufism
Carl W. Ernst 191
- 10 The Salafi Movement:
Violence and the Fragmentation of Community
Quintan Wiktorowicz 208
- 11 Defining Islamic Interconnectivity
Gary Bunt 235
- 12 Wiring Up: The Internet Difference for Muslim Networks
Jon W. Anderson 252
- 13 A New Research Agenda: Exploring the Transglobal Hip Hop Umma
H. SamyAlim 264
- Afterword
Taieb Belghazi 275
- Bibliography 283
- Contributors 303
- Index 307