

T A B L E     O F     C O N T E N T S

Notes on Contributors	ix
1. Introduction: A Member of the Family—Russia's Place in Europe, 1789-1914 Susan P. McCaffray and Michael Melancon	1
Part I    Envisioning an Economy	11
2. The Ties that Bind: The Role of the Russian Clan in Inheritance and Property Law Lee A. Farrow	13
3. Capital, Industrious ness, and Private Banks in the Economic Imagination of a Nineteenth-Century Statesman Susan P. McCaffray	33
4. Toward a Comprehensive Law: Tsarist Factory Labor Legislation in European Context, 1830-1914 Boris B. Gorshkov	49
5. Rereading Old Texts: Sergei Witte and the Industrialization of Russia Frank Wcislo	71
6. Religious and Nationalist Aspects of Entrepreneurialism in Russia Boris V. Anan'ich	85
Part II    Envisioning a Society	95
7. The Role of "Europe" in Russian Nationalism: Reinterpreting the Relationship between Russia and the West in Slavophile Thought Susanna Rabow-Edling	97
8. Statistics, Social Science, and Social Justice: The Zemstvo Statisticians of Pre-Revolutionary Russia Esther Kingston-Mann	113

9. "The Temple of Idleness": Associations and the Public Sphere in Provincial Russia Lutz Häfner	141
10. Russian Punishments in the European Mirror Jonathan Daly	161
11. St. Petersburg Workers and Implementation of the Social Insurance Law of 1912 Alice K. Pate	189
12. Russia's Outlooks on the Present and Future, 1910-1914: What the Press Tells Us Michael Melancon	203
Index	227