

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on contributors	ix
Introduction Myths of (post)modern Vietnam Catherine Earl	1
Section I Facts: Multiplying knowledge production about Vietnam	15
Chapter 1 Blurring the boundaries: Rethinking public space from Ho Chi Minh City's streets and alleyways Marie Gibert	23
Chapter 2 Rereading Confucianism: A feminist gender project Minna Hakkarainen	45
Chapter 3 'Korean suits are only the latest Vietnamese uniform': Looking past myths of change and continuities in Vietnamese men and masculinities during Đổi Mới Philip Martin	66
Section II Fictions: Interpreting evidence in knowledge production	93
Chapter 4 Soviet influence on Vietnamese development policy – some myths Vladimir Mazyrin and Adam Fforde	99
Chapter 5 Curtailed choices: Exploring conditions of employment, housing and health among undocumented labour migrants in Ho Chi Minh City Nguyen Thi Hong-Xoan and Catherine Earl	130

Chapter 6	On the myth of 'uncivilized' rural people in the city Ashley Carruthers and Dang Dinh Trung	163
Section III	Fantasies: Shaping interests and tactics in knowledge production	183
Chapter 7	Myths in the understanding of the process of Đổi Mới Adam Fforde	189
Conclusion	Ways of knowing Vietnam today Catherine Earl	211
Index		231

Figures

1.1:	HCMC's alleyways: Daily diversity and reversibility	32
1.2:	Inventory and location of shopping malls in HCMC today	36
1.3:	Revealing the 'collective social urban frame' of HCMC	38
5.1:	Small private garment workshop in HCMC	143
5.2:	Shared rented boarding house room in Thu Duc District, HCMC	142
5.3:	Thatched shelter of an undocumented service industry worker in Thu Duc District, HCMC	144

Tables

5.1:	Assistance in finding a job by working sector and sex	139
5.2:	Housing area per young migrant	142
5.3:	Health status of female and male young labour migrants	146
5.4:	Current health status compared to before migration	147
5.5:	Percentage of respondents having health insurance by employment sector	147