

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Chapter 1. Introduction: International Blogging-Identity, Politics, and Networked Publics Adrienne Russell	1
Chapter 2. From the Margins to the Center: New Media and the Case of Bondy Blog in France Nabil Echchaibi	11
Chapter 3. Theorizing the Muslim Blogosphere: Blogs, Rationality, Publicness, and Individuality Eugenia Siapera	29
Chapter 4. Bridges or Breaches? Thoughts on How People Use Blogs in China Kim De Vries	47
Chapter 5. Blogging in Russia Is not Russian Blogging Karina Alexanyan and Olessia Koltsova	65
Chapter 6. Mapping the Australian Political Blogosphere Axel Bruns and Debra Adams	85

Chapter 7. Blogs as Public Property Media: Defining the Roles and Assessing the Influence of Political Blogging in Israel Carmel L. Vaisman	111
Chapter 8. Offline Politics in the Arab Blogosphere: Trends and Prospects in Morocco Aziz Douai	133
Chapter 9. Beppegrillo.it: One Year in the Life of an Italian Blog Giovanni Navarria	151
Chapter 10. Textual and Symbolic Resistance: Re-mediating Politics Through the Blogosphere in Singapore Yasmin Ibrahim	173
Contributors	199
Index	203