

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgments.....	ix
Foreword	xi
Introduction	1
Chapter 1: Unmasking Male, Heterosexual, and Racial Privileges: From Naïve Complicity to Critical Awareness and Praxis.....	17
Case Studies
Aford's Critical Analysis of the Expression "Be a Man" and Its Implication for Men of African Descent	44
Fritz's Understanding of and Experience with Maleness	47
Dwame's Definition of Man and Experience with Institutionalized Racism	50
Frantz's Position on the Expression "Be a Man"	51
Joseph's Early Exposure to and Critical Approach about Maleness and Masculinity.....	54
Walt's Understanding of "Being a Man" and Experience with Racism.....	57
Eley's View of What Being a Man Means	59
Comment on Case Studies and Suggestions for Educators to Engage Students in Issues Revolved Around Maleness and Racism	61
Chapter 2: Black Masculinity under White Supremacy: Exploring the Intersection between Black Masculinity, Slavery, Racism, Heterosexism, and Social Class	63
Case Studies
Thomas' Take on the Intersection between Gender, Sex, Race, and Social Class in the Context of Black Masculinity	87
Dr. Joe's View about the Link between Black Masculinity, Colonialism, Capitalism, and Sexual Orientation	91
Fritz's Approach about Black Masculinity in Relation to Slavery, Colonization, and Whiteness.....	94
Ben's Experience with Maleness, Homophobia, and Institutionalized Racism	98
Jon's Take on Black Masculinity and Experience with Institutionalized Racism and Homophobia in the Black Community	105
Comment on Case Studies and Suggestions for Classroom Discussions Revolved around Issues Addressed in this Chapter	108

Chapter 3: Tied Against the Racial Wall:
Men of Color Resisting Hegemonic Discourse of Blaming
the “Other,” Cultural Norms, and Religious Dogmas 113

Case Studies
Dr. Joe’s Stance on Black Masculinity, White Supremacy, and the Media 135
Tom’s Experience with Institutionalized Racism at School and Interrogation of Sexist Practices taking place in Fraternity and Religious Settings and Other Settings..... 142
Alex’s Experience with Institutionalized Racism, Imprisonment for Drug Trafficking, and His Definition of Male and Female Roles and Responsibility 149
Comment on Case Studies and Suggestions for Taking Practical Steps Toward Social Change 155

Chapter 4: Beyond Sociohistorical Constructions of Race and Gender:
An Achievable Goal or a Utopia? 161

Case Studies
Fanon’s View about Male Roles and Experience Growing up as a Black Man in the Forties 181
Marcel’s Stance against the Most Common Accepted Definition of Male and Female Roles 185
Mario’s Experience with Institutionalized Racism
as an Immigrant Black Professional 188
Comment on Case Studies and Suggestions to Initiate and/or Continue the Dialogue about Inter-Racial and Gender Relations/Alliances
in Schools and Beyond 191

Chapter 5: Examining Maleness through the Racial Line..... 193

Afterword: The Inescapable Socio-Political Weight of Race:
A Critical Analysis of President Barack Obama’s,
Professor Henry Louis Gates’s, and Sgt. James Crowley’s
Racial Controversy..... 203

Bibliography 213