

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction
Julie Buckler and Emily D. Johnson	3
Part 1
Reconstituting Urban Space
Transporting Jerusalem: The Epiphany Ritual in Early St. Petersburg
Michael S. Flier	15
Prague Funerals: How Czech National Symbols Conquered and Defended Public Space
Marek Nekula	35
“A Monstrous Staircase”: Inscribing the 1905 Revolution on Odessa
Rebecca Stanton	59
Jubilation Deferred: The Belated Commemoration of the 250th Anniversary of St. Petersburg/Leningrad
Emily D. Johnson	81
Part 2
The Art and Culture of Commemoration
The Portrait Mode: Zhukovsky, Pushkin, and the Gallery of 1812
Luba Golburt	105
An Island of Antiquity: The Double Life of Talashkino in Russia and Beyond
Katia Dianina	133

From Lenin's Tomb to Avtovo Station: Illusion and Spectacle in Soviet Subterranean Space
Julia Bekman Chadaga	157
From Public, to Private, to Public Again: International Women's Day in Post-Soviet Russia
Choi Chatterjee	183
Part 3
Military and Battlefield Commemorations
Taking and Retaking the Field: Borodino as a Site of Collective Memory
Julie Buckler	203
Who to Lead the Slavs? Poles, Russians, and the 1910 Anniversary of the Battle of Grunwald
Patrice M. Dabrowski	225
Moscow's First World War Memorial and Ninety Years of Contested Memory
Karen Petrone	241
Part 4
Commemorating Trauma
Memory as the Anchor of Sovereignty: Katyn and the Charge of Genocide
James von Geldern	263
Postcolonial Estrangements: Claiming a Space Between Stalin and Hitler
Serguei Alex. Oushakine	285
Prisons into Museums: Fashioning a Post-Communist Place of Memory
Cristina Vatulescu	315
Contributors	337