Contents

List of Figures* vii
List of Tables ix
List of Contributors xi

Introduction 1
Beth Harris*

PART It READING OUT

1 "Weary Stitches": Illustrations and Paintings for Thomas Hood's "Song of the Shirt" and Other Poems 13
Susan P. Casteras

2 Workers' Compensation: (Needle)Work and Ideals of Femininity in Margaret Oliphant's Kirsteen 41
Arlene Young

3 "Let herself out to do needlework": Female Agency and the Workhouse of Gender in Charles Dickens's Little Dorrit 53
Joellen Masters

4 The Retailoring of Dickens: Christmas Shadows, Radicalism, and the Needlewoman Myth 67
Ian Haywood

5 Chartism and Gender Politics in Ernest Jones's The Young Milliner 87
Ella Dzelzainis

6 The Melodramatic Seamstress: Interpreting a Victorian Penny Dreadful 99
Rohan McWilliam

7 All that Glitters is not Gold: the Show-Shop and the Victorian Seamstress 115
Beth Harris

PART II: WRITING IN

8 Business or Labor? Blurred Boundaries in the Careers of Self-Employed Needlewomen in Mid-Nineteenth-Century Albany 141
Susan Ingalls Lewis

9 Scarlett's Sisters: Spinsters, Widows, Wives, and Free-Traders in Nineteenth-Century North Carolina 157
Pamela J. Nickless

10 "Thinking and Stitching, Stitching and Thinking": Needlework, American Women Writers, and Professionalism 171
Jacqueline M. Chambers

11 "Furnishing Girls with Self-Supporting Trades": Custom Needlework and Vocational Education, 1890-1920 185
Wendy Gambe r

12 Virtue, Vice, and Revolution: Representations of Parisian Needlewomen in the Mid-Nineteenth Century 201
Judith DeGroat

13 "A Heavy Bill to Settle with Humanity": The Representation and Invisibility of London's Principal Milliners and Dressmakers 215
Nicola Pullin

14 "Wanted: 1000 Spirited Young Milliners": The Fund for Promoting Female Emigration 229
Jo Chimes

15 "To Be Poor and To Be Honest...Is the Hardest Struggle of All": Sweated Needlewomen and Campaigns for Protective Legislation, 1840-1914 243
Sheila Blackburn

Select Bibliography 259
Index 267