

Contents

List of Plates [page viii]

List of Figures [xiv]

Preface and Acknowledgements [xvii]

Note on Transliteration and Translation [xxi]

Introduction: Beirut in the Global Sixties: Design, Politics and Translocal Visuality [1]

1. Dislocating the Nation: Mediterraneanscapes in Lebanon's Tourist Promotion [25]
2. The Hot Third World in the Cultural Cold War: Modernism, Arabic Literary Journals and US Counterinsurgency [63]
3. The Visual Economy of 'Precious Books': Publishing, Modern Art and the Design of Arabic Books [101]
4. Ornament Is No Crime: Decolonizing the Arabic Page from Cairo to Beirut [132]
5. Art Is in the 'Arab Street': The Palestinian Revolution and Printscape of Solidarity [163]
6. Draw Me a Gun: Radical Children's Books in the Trenches of 'Arab Hanoi' [211]

Conclusion [243]

Bibliography [246]

Index [270]

The plate section can be found between pages 138 and 139.