

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction	1
---------------------------	---

CHAPTER 1

Women dream majālis: Traditional knowledge centres and communicative spaces of Dubai	7
The Islamic bolstering of dream-lore	7
Terms and concepts of dream-lore	9
Public-ness of dream discourses	11
Landscape of multi-knowledge centres	12
Constructing a loving and caring public.	17
Layers for dream-lore communication	17
Qualities of dream interpreter.	19
The Predicament of Communication	19

CHAPTER 2

Communicating dream-lore during the pre-oil era:
The dream, the explainer, and the dreamer	23
The Dream	23
The Interpreter	36
The Dreamer	44

CHAPTER 3

Generational shifts in modes of communication:
Contesting gender roles through dream-lore	49
Pearling Era Generation:
Agency of women, knowledge, and space	50
Generation OIG:
Secondary Orality in an Industrialized Society	58
Generation MMG:

Male Dominance in Institutionalized Multi-Media Discourse. . 63

Conclusion. 68

CHAPTER 4

Abridged dream dictionary and dream symbol interpretations 71

APPENDIX I

Informant’s personal data 83

APPENDIX II

References and further readings 87

APPENDIX III

Index..... 95

The Author..... 99