

Contents

Introduction	7
I GENERAL DEBATE	11
Technological Practices and Social Exclusion Risks in Information Society - A Conceptual Framework	17
Gerd Schienstock
Globalization, Nations and Culture in the Information Era	43
Frank Webster
Rethinking Organisation in the Information Society	65
Ian Miles
The Value of Women and Men: Gendering Knowledge and Skills in the Information Society	101
Juliet Webster
II SOCIAL EXCLUSION AND THE CHANGING NATURE OF WORK	117
Hen or Egg? - The relationship between IC-technologies and social exclusion	123
Bettina-Johanna Krings
The restructuring of employment in the information society and its implications for social protection	139
Ursula Huws

Various risks and opportunities for social groups of workers: research findings	153
Maria Luisa Mirabile and Francesco Carrera
Flexible work and work life balance - potential or contradiction?	161
Volker Hielscher
 III ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE IN THE INFORMATION SOCIETY	 173
Organization and Change in Information Societies - Networking, Fragmentation and their Impacts on Uncertainty Absorption	177
Raimund Hasse
Work organisation in industry: Practices of use of IT in Portugal	197
António Brandao Moniz
Working in the Knowledge Economy - The Case of Multimedia Production	217
Gerhard Fuchs
 IV INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND THE RECONSTRUCTION OF GOVERNMENT	 235
Internet Portals in Public Administration. The Readjustment of Information and of Administrative Practice	241
Heinrich Reinermann
Political Participation and the Internet. Opportunities and Limits of Electronic Democracy	253
Hans Kastenholz/Gerhard Fuchs/Bernhard Bubeck
Authors	269