

A 379052

Max Weber

READINGS AND COMMENTARY ON MODERNITY

Edited by
Stephen Kalberg

Series Editor
Ira J. Cohen

Blackwell
Publishing

Contents

General Editor's Foreword	xi
Chronology of Max Weber's Life	xv
Glossary	xxi
Acknowledgments	xxxi
Introduction – Max Weber: The Confrontation with Modernity	1
Stephen Kalberg
Max Weber: The Man	7
Foundational Features of Weber's Interpretive Understanding Sociology	8
Research Strategies and Procedures	14
The Vision of "Society"	19
Weber's Multicausality	22
Modern Western Rationalism I: Weber's Model	27
Modern Western Rationalism II: Empirical Variation	30
Fears about the Future and Proposals for Social Change	34
Weber on Modernity and Weber's Sociology: An Assessment	37
Notes	41
PART I THE UNIQUENESS OF THE WEST	49
Introduction	49
1 The "Rationalism" of Western Civilization	53
From "Prefatory Remarks" to Collected Essays on the Sociology of Religion	53
From The Religion of India	64
From Economy and Society	65

PART II	THE UNIQUENESS AND ORIGINS OF THE MODERN WESTERN WORK ETHIC	69
	Introduction	69
	2 The Religious Origins of the Vocational Calling: The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism	75
	From The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism	75
	From "Discussion Contributions"	107
	From "On the Psychological Physics of Industrial Work"	108
	3 Continuous Ethical Discipline	111
	From "The Protestant Sects and the Spirit of Capitalism"	111
PART III	THE ECONOMY, THE WORKPLACE, AND THE SPECIALIZED NATURE OF WORK IN THE MODERN EPOCH	121
	Introduction	121
	4 Market and Planned Economies: Modern Capitalism's Substantive Conditions	125
	From Economy and Society	125
	5 The Separation of the Worker from the Means of Production, the Spread of Officialdom, and Organizational Discipline in the Factory	130
	From "Socialism"	130
	From "A Research Strategy for the Study of Occupational Careers and Mobility Patterns"	134
	From Economy and Society	135
	6 The "Specialist" and the "Cultivated Man": Certificates and the Origin of Ideas in Science	137
	From Economy and Society	137
	From "Science as a Vocation"	139
	7 Old and New Civilizations: Contrasting Rural Social Structures in Germany and the United States	142
	From "Capitalism and Rural Society in Germany"	142

PART IV	STRATIFICATION AND INEQUALITY	147
	Introduction	147
	8 The Distribution of Power Within the Group: Class, Status, Party	151
	From Economy and Society	151
	9 Germany as a Nation of Commoners	163
	From "National Character and the Junkers"	163
	10 The Counterbalancing of Economic and Social Inequality by Universal Suffrage	168
	From "Suffrage and Democracy in Germany"	168
PART V	AUTHORITY IN THE MODERN EPOCH	173
	Introduction	173
	11 Power and Authority: When and Why Do People Obey?	179
	From Economy and Society	179
	12 The Bureaucracy I: External Form, Technical Superiority, Ethos, and Inequality	194
	From Economy and Society	194
	From "The Social Psychology of the World Religions"	198
	From Economy and Society	198
	13 The Bureaucracy II: The Impact upon Society	209
	From Economy and Society	209
	14 Past and Present: Charismatic Authority and its Routinization	217
	From "The Social Psychology of the World Religions"	217
	From Economy and Society	218
	From "The Social Psychology of the World Religions"	220

PART VI	THE NATION, THE MODERN STATE, AND MODERN LAW	221
	Introduction	221
15	The Nation: A Sentiment of Solidarity and the "National" Idea	225
	From Economy and Society	225
16	The State, its Basic Functions, and the Economic Foundations of Imperialism	230
	From Economy and Society	230
17	From Particularistic Law to Formal Legal Equality and the Rights of Individuals	238
	From Economy and Society	238
PART VII	THE CIRCUMSCRIPTION OF ETHICAL ACTION TODAY AND WEBER'S RESPONSE	245
	Introduction	245
18	The Antagonism of the Economy and Political Domains to Ethical Action	251
	From Economy and Society	251
	From "Religious Rejections of the World and Their Directions"	253
19	A "Casing of Bondage" and the Rule of Functionaries: The Call for Political Leadership, Strong Parliaments, and an Ethic of Responsibility	255
	From Economy and Society	255
	From "Politics as a Vocation"	257
	From Economy and Society	260
	From "Suffrage and Democracy in Germany"	262
	From "Politics as a Vocation"	265
PART VIII	THE POLITICAL CULTURE OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY: THE INFLUENCE OF THE "SECT SPIRIT"	273
	Introduction	273
20	The Autonomy of the Individual in the Sect and the Ability to Form Democratic Communities: Tolerance and Freedom of Conscience	277

	From The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism	277
	From Economy and Society	280
	From The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism	280
	From Economy and Society	282
	From "'Churches' and 'Sects' in North America"	284
	From Economy and Society	287
	From "'Churches' and 'Sects' in North America"	287
	From The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism	288
PART IX	ON "RACE," THE COMPLEXITY OF THE CONCEPT OF ETHNICITY, AND HEREDITY	291
	Introduction	291
	21 On "Race" Membership, Common Ethnicity, the "Ethnic Group," and Heredity	297
	From Economy and Society	297
	From "Comment on the Lecture by Alfred Ploetz"	306
	From "Prefatory Remarks" to Collected Essays on the Sociology of Religion	314
PART X	THE MEANING, VALUE, AND VALUE-FREEDOM OF SCIENCE: "SCIENCE AS A VOCATION" AND OTHER WRITINGS	315
	Introduction	315
	22 The Meaning and Value of Science: Disenchantment, "Progress," and Civilized Man's Meaninglessness	321
	From "Science as a Vocation"	321
	23 Ethical Neutrality in the Classroom and the Usefulness and Limits of an Empirical Science	328
	From "Science as a Vocation"	328
	From "Debate Commentary"	335

24	The Opposition of Salvation Religions to Science and Modern Culture	337
	From "Science as a Vocation"	337
	From "Religious Rejections of the World and Their Directions"	340
PART XI	MODERN READINGS	345
	Introduction	345
25	Private Authority and Work Habits: England and Russia	347
	Reinhard Bendix
26	The Data Protection Act: A Case of Rationalization	353
	Martin Albrow
27	The McDonaldization of Society	357
	George Ritzer
28	Hitler's Charisma	361
	Luciano Cavalli
29	The Routinization of Charisma: Rituals of Confession within Communities of Virtuosi	363
	Hans-Georg Riegl
30	The Political Culture of American Democracy: The Enduring Influence of Religion	367
	Seymour Martin Lipset
	Bibliography	377
	Author Index	383
	Subject Index	385
