

Contents

List of tables, figures and boxes	vi
Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on contributors	viii
Introduction	i
Tania Burchardt and Gary Craig
one Social justice and public policy: a view from political philosophy Jonathan Wolff	17
two Social justice and public policy: a social policy perspective David Piachaud	33
three Multiculturalism, social justice and the welfare state Will Kymlicka	53
four Structural injustice and the politics of difference Iris Marion Young	77
five Recognition and voice: the challenge for social justice Ruth Lister	105
six Globalisation, social justice and the politics of aid Christopher Bertram	123
seven Social justice and the family Harry Brighouse and Adam Swift	139
eight Children, policy and social justice David Gordon	157
nine Social justice in the UK: one route or four? Katie Schmuecker	181
ten Monitoring inequality: putting the capability approach to work Tania Burchardt	205 eleven The limits of compromise? Social justice, 'race' and multiculturalism Gary Craig	231
twelve Understanding environmental justice: making the connection between sustainable development and social justice Maria Adebowale	251
Index	277

List of tables, figures and boxes

Tables

3.1	The strength of multiculturalism policies in democratic countries	70
3.2	Multiculturalism policies and change in social redistribution	71
9.1	Attitudes towards policy variation in Great Britain (2003)	185

Figures

10.1	Overlaps between human rights-based capabilities list and list generated through deliberative consultation	213
10.2	Capability measurement framework	219
12.1	Joining up the economy and the environment via the social dimension	253

Boxes

10.1	Domains of central and valuable capabilities	217
12.1	Evidence for the relationship between income and environmental impact	263
12.2	A sustainable development policy agenda	270