

Contents

Notes on Contributors	ix
1. New insights into assimilation and integration theory Jens Schneider and Maurice Crul	1
2. The complexities and confusions of segmented assimilation Alex Stepick and Carol Dutton Stepick	7
3. Segmented assimilation revisited: types of acculturation and socioeconomic mobility in young adulthood Mary C. Waters, Van C. Tran, Philip Kasinitz and John H. Mollenkopf	25
4. What happens after segmented assimilation? An exploration of intermarriage and 'mixed race' young people in Britain Miri Song	51
5. Segmented assimilation and cross-national comparative research on the integration of immigrants and their children Hans Vermeulen	71
6. Integrating via networks: foreigners and others Michael Eve	88
7. Comparative integration context theory: participation and belonging in new diverse European cities Maurice Crul and Jens Schneider	106
Index	126