

Voices of the Korean Minority in Postwar Japan

Histories Against the Grain

Erik Ropers

Contents

	Acknowledgments	ix
	List of abbreviations	xi
1	Introduction	1
2	Foundational narratives of forced recruitment and forced labor	27
3	History and the politics of testimony: Koreans are/ Not victims of forced recruitment	60
4	Contested spaces of ethnicity: zainichi Korean accounts of the atomic bombings	86
5	Journalists' and citizens' debates: early narratives of enforced military prostitution	112
6	Telling the story today: problematizing the so-called "Comfort Women Issue"	157
	Epilogue	202
	Index	211