

C O N T E N T S

	List of Illustrations	ix
	Acknowledgments	xi
	Introduction	1
one	Talking to Musicians	11
two	Grooving and Feeling	26
three	Music, Language, and Cultural Styles: Improvisation as Conversation	73
four	Intermusicality	97
five	Interaction, Feeling, and Musical Analysis	133
six	Ethnomusicology, Interaction, and Poststructuralism	192
	Coda	216
	Notes	219
	Interviews	231
	Recordings	233
	Bibliography	235
	Index	247

ILLUSTRATIONS

Figures

1. Playing networks among musicians participating in the study	13
2. Formal plan of Broadway version of "My Favorite Things"	108
3. Formal plan of Coltrane version of "My Favorite Things"	109
4. Formal plan of McCoy Tyner's solo on "My Favorite Things"	110
5. Formal plan of "Rip, Rig, and Panic"	122
6. Musical intensification in "Bass-ment Blues"	139

Musical Examples

1. Richard Davis playing a walking bass line	31
2. Melodic interaction between Richard Davis and Freddie Hubbard	33
3. "Blues for Duane"	35
4. Jaki Byard playing riff-style comping	45
5. Riff-style comping	47
6. The shuffle family of rhythms	53
7. Jerome Harris singing R&B bass line	54
8. Jerome Harris singing walking bass line	54
9. Michael Carvin singing a Tony Williams-style ride cymbal beat	57
10. Simple drum fill	60

11. Excerpt from Geri Allen's piano solo on "Princess"	78
12. "Salt Peanuts"	79
13. Ralph Peterson Jr. singing Art Blakey rhythm	79
14. Coltrane version of "My Favorite Things"	111
15. Broadway version of "My Favorite Things"	116
16. Four melodic ideas in "Bass-ment Blues"	140
17. "Bass-ment Blues"	141
18. Jerome Harris singing R&B bass line with backbeat	196
19. "Sidewinder"	197

Notation key

Drum notation

