

	Contents
	Preface x
	 I Claiming Urban Landscapes as Public History
	 1 Contested Terrain 2
	 2 Urban Landscape History:
	 The Sense of Place and the Politics of Space 14
	 3 Place Memory and Urban Preservation 44

II Los Angeles: Public Pasts in the Downtown Landscape

4 Invisible Angelenos 82

5 Workers' Landscapes and Livelihoods 98

6 The View from Grandma Mason's Place 138

7 Rediscovering an African American Homestead 168

8 Reinterpreting Latina History at the Embassy Auditorium 188

9 Remembering Little Tokyo on First Street 210

10 Storytelling with the Shapes of Time 226

Epilogue: Los Angeles after April 29, 1992 240

Notes 248

Index 288