

Contents

Notes on contributors	vii
Foreword by Mike Oliver	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
 Introduction	 1
Len Barton and Felicity Armstrong
1 Disabled people's quest for social justice in Zimbabwe	7
Robert Chimedza and Susan Peters
2 Human rights and the struggle for inclusive education in Trinidad and Tobago	24
Ann Cheryl Namsoo and Derrick Armstrong
3 Headlights on full beam: disability and education in Hong Kong	38
John Lewis
4 Human rights and inclusive education in China: a Western perspective	54
Patricia Potts
5 Rights and disabilities in educational provision in Pakistan and Bangladesh: roots, rhetoric, reality	67
M. Miles and Farhad Hossain
6 Inclusive education in Canada: a piece in the equality puzzle	87
Marcia Rioux
7 Disability, human rights and education: the United States	100
Alan Gartner and Dorothy Kerzner Lipsky
8 Special education and human rights in Australia: how do we know about disablement, and what does it mean for educators?	119
Roger Slee
9 Educational opportunities and polysemic notions of equality in France	132
Nathalie Bélanger and Nicolas Garant

10	Experience-near perspectives on disabled people's rights in Sweden Anders Gustavsson	149
11	Equality and full participation for all? School practices and special education/integration in Greece Anastasia Vlachou-Balafouti	161
12	Disability, human rights and education in Cyprus Helen Phtiaka	176
13	Disability, human rights and education in Romania Michele Moore and Karen Dunn	193
14	'Is there anyone there concerned with human rights?' Cross-cultural connections, disability and the struggle for change in England Felicity Armstrong and Len Barton	210
	Index	230