

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
I. LESSONS OF EMPIRE
1. The New Imperialists Matthew Connelly	19
2. The History of Lessons: Law and Power in Modern Empire Emmanuelle Saada	34
3. Imperial Formations and the Opacities of Rule Ann Laura Stoler	48
II. EMPIRES AS AGENTS OF CHANGE
4. Modernizing Colonialism and the Limits of Empire Frederick Cooper	63
5. Learning from Empire: Russia and the Soviet Union Ronald Grigor Suny	73
6. Empires of Liberty? Democracy and Conquest in French Egypt, British Egypt, and American Iraq Juan Cole	94
7. Law and Legitimation in Empire Caglar Keyder	116
III. MODELS OF POWER
8. Imperialism or Colonialism? From Windhoek to Washington, by Way of Basra George Steinmetz	135

VI • CONTENTS

9. Who Counts? Imperial and Corporate Structures of Governance, Decolonization, and Limited Liability John D.Kelly	157
10. Empire and Imitation Sheldon Pollock	175
11. China's Agrarian Empire: A Different Kind of Empire, a Different Kind of Lesson R. Bin Wong	189
12. Imperial Power and Its Limits: America's Colonial Empire in the Early Twentieth Century Julian Go	201
IV. EMPIRES AS INTERNATIONAL ACTORS
13. Imperial and Colonial Encounters: Some Comparative Reflections Sanjay Subrahmanyam	217
14. Ways of Remembering the Maine : Lessons of 1898 in Spain and Cuba Christopher Schmidt-Nowara	229
15. Agriculture, Industry, Empire, and America Craig N. Murphy	242
16. Imperialism Is Alive and Well: Globalization and East Asia after September 11 Jomo K. S.	253
17. Myths of Empire and Strategies of Hegemony Jack Snyder	269
Notes	283
Contributors	325
Index	327

PPN: 252948823

Titel: Lessons of empire : imperial histories and American power / ed. by Craig Calhoun - New York [u.a.] : New Press, 2006

ISBN: 1-595-58007-7pbk£12.99 : CIP entry (Mar.); 978-1-595-58007-8; 1-59558-096-4; 978-1-59558-096-2

Bibliographischer Datensatz im SWB-Verbund