
CONTENTS

Preface ix

Introduction 1

PART I A SHI'Ī EMPIRE 31

ONE Shi'ism and the Safavid Revolution (1501–1588) 33

TWO The Age of 'Abbas I and the Shaping of the Safavid Empire (1588–1666) 76

THREE The Demise of the Safavid Order and the Unhappy Interregnums (1666–1797) 126

PART II RESHAPING OF THE GUARDED DOMAINS 177

FOUR The Making of the Qajar Era (1797–1852) 179

FIVE Naser al-Din Shah and Maintaining a
Fragile Balance (1848–1896) 247

SIX The Constitutional Revolution: Road to a
Plural Modernity (1905–1911) 315

PART III A NATION RECAST	387
SEVEN The Great War and the Rise of Reza Khan (1914–1925)	389
EIGHT Reza Shah and the Pahlavi Order (1925–1941)	446
NINE Chaotic Democracy, Oil Nationalization, and Denied Hopes (1941–1953)	502
TEN The White Revolution and Its Opponents (1953–1963)	562
ELEVEN Development, Disarray, and Discontent (1963–1977)	617
TWELVE Cultures of Authority and Cultures of Dissent	663
 PART IV A CONTESTED REVOLUTION AND THE RISE OF THE ISLAMIC REPUBLIC	 701
THIRTEEN The Making of the Islamic Revolution (1977–1979)	703
FOURTEEN The Guardian Jurist and His Advocates	743
FIFTEEN Consolidation of the Islamic Republic (1979–1984)	773
SIXTEEN Facing the Foe: The Hostage Crisis, the Iraq-Iran War, and the Aftermath (1979–1989)	820
SEVENTEEN Society and Culture under the Islamic Republic	868
 Epilogue	 897
Notes	909
Further Readings	915
Index	945