

Contents

Acknowledgments	v
Empowering African Languages: An Introduction Taiwo Oloruntoba-Oju, Bert van Pinxteren & Josef Schmied	1
1. Decolonizing the Politics of Language in African Education Systems Ekkehard H. Wolff	9
2. Culture and language – empowering and disempowering ideas Bert van Pinxteren	23
3. Language inequality and legal discourse in Cameroon: A critical approach Endurance Dissake	35
4. Linguistic and Cultural Barriers to Learning and Development in Africa: The Example of Burkina Faso Emilie Sanon-Ouattara	55
5. Les Politiques Linguistiques et Le rôle des Langues Nationales pour un Développement Durable en Angola (Language policies and the role of national languages for sustainable development in Angola) Emmanuel Alfredo	73
6. Linguistic and sociocultural implications of Yoruba slangs in students' narratives in Lagos, Nigeria Abisoye Eleshin	93
7. Nigerian 'duelling' languages and the backlash phenomenon: Prognosis for the resurgence of indigenous languages Taiwo Oloruntoba-Oju	101
8. Equatorial Guinea seeks sustainable language use through community- based language development Diosdado Nguere and Scott Smith	125
9. Local language teaching practices in Cameroon and the challenges of building a collaborative network between government and language committees: An observation from within Gabriel Delmon Djomeni	139
10. Emergence of new language practices in Africa: The case of the Republic of Congo Elise Bagamboula	157
11. The Amharic language: history of its use in Ethiopia and peculiarities of Ethiopia's language policy Lidia Zatolokina	171
12. Alter/natives and im/perfect futures: Education sites and communication for transformative democracy Muchativugwa Liberty Hove	179