

Table of contents

List of contributors	xi
Preface
EVGENY V. KOPOSOV (Rector of the NNGASU)	xv
A word of thanks	xvii
Introduction
ANDREY V. DAKHIN and HEDE HELFRICH	xix
Part I:
Administrative-political reforms in Russia's regions: Political, economical and cadres' sources in comparative perspective
1 Regional dimension of administrative reforms: Political, economical and cultural aspects
	3
<hr/>
Chapter 1: The political and economic after-effects of political-administrative reform and of changes in structures and regional authority institutions
ANDREY V. DAKHIN	5
Chapter 2: A system change from centralization to decentralization: South Korea's experience
TOBIN IM and SOON EUN KIM	17
Chapter 3: Consensus and its exceptions: Russian regionalism between "Political Pedagogy" and "Social Orthopedy"
ANDREY S. MAKARYCHEV	29
Chapter 4: Administrative reform in the region: Conflicts and compromises (by the example of the Ryazan region)
VLADIMIR S. AVDONIN	37

Chapter 5: The abolition of direct governor election in the Russian Federation: Socio-economic reasons and political consequences VIKTOR A. KOVALEV	49
Chapter 6: Party-political aspects in implementing the administrative reform in Russia in 2000s (as exemplified by the Nizhny Novgorod Oblast) NIKOLAI P. RASPOPOV	63
Chapter 7: Administrative reform and increasing independence of the regions in forming socio-cultural policy (the case of the Tatarstan Republic) ALEXANDER L. SALAGAEV and RUSTEM R. SAFIN	77
Chapter 8: Political processes in Russian regions in the framework of centralization policy PETR V. PANOV	85
Chapter 9: The place and role of the administrative reform in the process of regionalization in Russia RUSTAM M. BIKMETOV	99
2 Patterns of training for officials: Political, technological, educational, and methodological aspects	107
Chapter 10: The basic principles of reengineering a government based on ICT HONG-BIN ZHANG, RU-ZHOU ZHAO and RONG LI	109
Chapter 11: Competence-based training: A new view on training in the Chengdu Institute of Administration ZAO CHEN	117
Chapter 12: The state service in Russia: Opportunities of its improvement with the help of the best foreign experience adaptation OLEG A. KOLOBOV	123

Chapter 13: How the former High Party School of the Soviet Communist Party changed in the context of the State Reform Process: A Russian experience ANDREY V. DAKHIN	127
Chapter 14: Knowledge management as a development factor for the professionalization of employees in state authorities SVETLANA A. TIKHONINA	145
Chapter 15: Career processes at the level of the individual citizen of the Federation: The Tatarstan experience OLGA V. GERASIMOVA	155
3 Public agency for experts' communication: Development of regional think tanks	163
Chapter 16: The advantages of the RCE in Nizhny Novgorod JOSEF F.H. SPAUBECK	165
Chapter 17: The project of a regional agency for public experts' communications (RAPEXCom) ANDREY V. DAKHIN and ANDREY A. DAKHIN	171
Chapter 18: The self-regulated organization of business community: Regional experience ALEXANDER E. BELYAKOV	179