

Table of Contents

Introduction	How to Break What's Broken: Visual Culture, Dissonance, and Politics	1
Prelude	Tactics of Oppositional Culture	11
Part I: The Allusive
Chapter 1	Boobs, Barf, and Bloody Asses: Coming of Age in South Park	41
Chapter 2	Singing in Hell with Satan: Intertextuality, Music, and the Regulation of the Child	59
Interlude 1	Irony, Community, and the Intelligent Design Debate in South Park and The Simpsons	81
Part II: The Responsive
Chapter 3	Puppets, Slaves, and Sex Changes: Mr. Garrison and South Park 's Performative Sexuality	101
Chapter 4	Muhammad's Ghost: Religion, Censorship, and the Politics of Intimidation	123
Interlude 2	To Rely on the Absurdity of the System: The Daily Show , The Onion , and New Media Convergence	147
Part III: The Disruptive
Chapter 5	Ambivalent Opposition: South Park 's Racial Discourse	165
Chapter 6	A Neo-Con Parade: South Park and Post-9/11 Politics	197
Coda	The Boondocks , Chappelle's Show , and the Rearticulation of Racial Politics	223
Conclusion	Playing with the System, Playing with Fire	247
Bibliography		253
Index		265