

Contents

List of illustrations	x
Preface	xii
Acknowledgements	xiv
1 Economic sociology unbound	1
Intellectual history and foundations: legacies of classical sociology	3
Rebirth: political economy and new economic sociology	7
New economic sociology: fundamental concepts	9
The basics of economic sociology	11
Structural embeddedness	11
Cognitive embeddedness	13
Cultural embeddedness	14
Institutional embeddedness	14
Political embeddedness	15
Traditions within economic sociology	16
Limitations of new economic sociology	18
2 Sociology and economics. Economic theory and its sociological critique	19
The significant other: neoclassical economics and institutional economics	20
Rational actors and rational choice	20
Competition and assuming markets: efficiency, equilibrium, and evolution	24
Overall evaluation: economics and its sociological critique	28
Advances in economic theory	30
3 The rise of markets and economic development	37
Economists and development	39
What is “capitalism”?	40
Sociology and the rise of capitalism	41
Marxist theory: classes and dialectics	41
Max Weber: institutions and organizations	43
Durkheim, modernity, and capitalism	47
Values of modernity and development: modernization theory	48
Marxism’s revenge: dependency theory and world-systems theory	50
Weber returns: institutional and state-centered theory	52
States and development: growth versus stagnation	53
Development: lessons and the future	58

4	The state, public policy, and economic organization	63
	Efficiency, competition, and "regression to the norm"	64
	States and economies	65
	The state's ability to act in the economy	65
	Policy regimes: a cross-national comparison	68
	The American model	69
	The British model	71
	The French model	74
	The German model	75
	East Asian models	77
	Policies: change and continuity	79
	Global policy paradigms: Keynesianism, monetarism, and welfare	81
	Keynesianism	81
	Monetarism	83
	Evaluating Keynesianism and monetarism	84
	Comparison of welfare policies	85
	Unintended outcomes: states and informal economies	86
	Comparisons, evaluations, conclusions	87
	State centered, market centered, and mixed: a comparison	88
5	The heart of the economy: Organizations and corporations	91
	The economists' view: organizations, markets, and efficiency	91
	New institutional economies (NIE)	93
	Sociological explanations: institutions, states, power, and culture	96
	Organizations as structured class power and capitalist logics	96
	Weberian and neo-Weberian views	98
	Organizations as "myth and ceremony": neoinstitutionalism	102
	Class plus institutions: William Roy's synthesis	108
	Cross-national variation: different organizational forms	110
	Alternative to the formal organization: "networked organization"	112
	Work and organizations	114
	Conclusion: organizations and the modern economy	116
6	Economies, inequality, and mobility	119
	Class and economy	120
	Economies shape classes	122
	Classes shape economies: the case of American doctors	127
	The challenge of class and economic sociology	129
	Race, ethnicity, and economy	130
	Race and ethnicity in the American economy	130
	Ethnicity and the economy: ethnic economies and ethnic enclaves	133
	Race and ethnicity: class in sheep's clothing?	135
	Race and ethnicity in European economies	137
	Race, ethnicity and economy: the challenge and the future	139

Gendered economies: glass ceilings and second shifts	139
"Gendered economies"	143
How a gendered economy reproduces inequality	144
The "second shift"	149
Change in gender and the economy	150
The challenge of gender and economies	151
7 The great experiment: markets in the shadows of socialism	153
The Soviet economy	154
Logics of the Soviet economy and the coming of crisis	154
Revisiting the birth of capitalism: post-socialist market-building	156
Russian economic reform after the collapse of communism	157
The liberalized economy versus the state, mafia, and shadow economy	158
Privatization: the politics of property	164
Monetization: market versus virtual value	168
Impact of market-building reforms	170
A post-socialist success story: China	176
Lessons of post-socialism for economic sociology	179
8 Brave new world? A critical examination of "globalization"	183
The muddles	184
Forces for and against globalization	186
Promoting globalization	186
Resisting globalization	188
New phenomenon – or return to the norm?	190
Globalization versus regionalization	192
The disconnect: global economies and national institutions	194
And the moral is ...?	196
Conclusion: Remaining challenges of economic sociology in the new millennium	199
The lessons	200
Structure and actors	200
Economies and power culture	200
The intellectual-theoretical agenda	203
Breaking out of the shadow of economics	203
A more unified theory	204
The normative (social-political) agenda	205
Social justice	205
Structures and balance	206
Deliberation at heart	207
Concept guide and glossary	211
Notes	215
Bibliography	229
Index	249

Illustrations

Figures

1.1	Networks and structural holes	12
2.1	Framing of choice and halo effects	23
2.2	Choices and outcomes for the prisoners' dilemma	33
3.1	Marxist dialectics and social change	42
3.2	Weberian logic of the rise of capitalism	45
3.3	How dependency operates	51
5.1	Corporate and organizational structures	92
5.2	General structure of a generic keiretsu and chaebol	112
6.1	Race/ethnicity and class dynamics	136
6.2	The reproduction of a "gendered" economy	146
7.1	Barter, value, and the virtual economy	160

Tables

1.1	Forms of embeddedness	16
3.1	Embedded autonomy	56
3.2	Basic overview of major theories of development	60
4.1	States and policy models	69
4.2	GINI coefficients for countries analyzed, plus others for comparisons	89
5.1	Forms of organizational isomorphism	105
5.2	Neil Fligstein's "conceptions of control"	108
6.1	Gender and Masters' degrees for a sample of departments	147
7.1	Dimensions of post-socialist economic reform	157
7.2	Recent economic trends in selected post-socialist economies	171

Boxes

5.1	Political elites and organizational interests	101
5.2	The fate of Weirton Steel	107
5.3	Temp work	117
6.1	A racialized economy	133
6.2	Ethnicity and riots in France	140
7.1	Oligarchs and politics: from Yeltsin to Putin	165
7.2	Hired killings in Russia	173
7.3	A simple sociological investigation of prostitution in St. Petersburg	175
8.1	A brief history of Mexican development and the revolt in Chiapas	191