

Contents

1 Refiguring Black Venus
Preliminary Considerations 1
Jorunn S. Gjerden, Kari Jegerstedt and Željka Švrliuga

PART I

Histories

2	Venus from A to Z in Beryl Gilroy's Inkle and Yarico Željka Švrljuga	19
3	H.C. Andersen's Black Venus Fairy Tale "The Marsh King's Daughter" and the Aftermath of Danish Colonialism Kjersti Aarstein	41
4	The Finger That Mocks the World Kara Walker's Sugar Baby and Images of African American Womanhood Carmen Birkle	63
5	The Italian Gaze on Black Venus Camilla Erichsen Skalle	89
6	The Voice of Venus Angela Carter's "Black Venus" and the Democratization of Literature Kari Jegerstedt	108

PART 2

Epistemologies

7 Epic Theatre and the Culture of Spectacle
Aesthetic Figuration of Body and Race in Suzan-Lori Parks'
 Venus
Ljubica Matek 129

8	The Wild Woman, the Little Mistress, the Hottentot Venus, and the Pedestal Monster Living Curiosities and Their Counter-spaces in Two Texts by Charles Baudelaire Margery Vibe Skagen	149
9	Colonial Bodies in Display Cases and Spectating Bodies A Contemporary Art Critique Ulla Angkjær Jørgensen	173
10	Gazes, Faces, Hands Othering Objectification and Spectatorial Surrender in Abdellatif Kechiche's Vénus noire and Carl Th. Dreyer's La Passion de Jeanne d'Arc Jorunn S. Gjerden	193
	Index	217