

Contents

Preface ix

Acknowledgments xiii

1. The Changing Dynamics of Work and Family 3

Six Major Themes

How Work and Family Affect Each Other

The Great Divide Between Men and Women

The Changing Face of Careers

2. Choosing Work or Family . . . or Both? 19

Life Role Priorities

Shaping Life Role Priorities

How Gender and Family Structure Affect Our Involvement in

Career and Family

Inequities in Our "Available" Choices

Four Conclusions About Choice and Involvement

3. How Family Affects Career Success 41

Two Questions

What Is Career Success?

What Leads to Career Success?

Family: Bonus or Penalty?

What Conclusions Can We Draw?

4. Having a Life 55

Where Our Career and Life Values Lead

How Time Matters

Looking Beyond Time

How Gender Matters

Balance and Boundaries

5. Children: Unseen Stakeholders at Work	69
A Model for Understanding Work's Effects on Children
What Affects Parenting and Child Outcomes?
Summing Up
6. Support from Our Partner	85
When Do Partners Receive Support?
Are There Benefits to Partner Support?
Four Conclusions About Partner Support
7. Support from Our Employer	103
What Do We Mean by Family-Friendliness?
Why Are Some Employers Family-Friendly?
Benefits of Employer Family-Friendliness
Employer Support + Partner Support
Summing Up
8. What Have We Learned?	121
A Model of Work-Family Relationships
Resources and Their Impact
The Effects of Involvement
The Dynamics of Emotional Gratification
What Causes Conflict Between Work and Family?
Recurrent Cycles of Influence
In Praise of the Career + Family Focus
Summing Up
9. What Can Be Done?	143
Benefits
Three Principles for Creating Allies of Work and Family
An Action Agenda
Summing Up
Appendix One: Design and Methodology of Our Study	175
Appendix Two: Personal Life Beyond the Family	193
Additional Tables	197
Notes	223
References	247
Index	257