Contents

Outline
Gerhard Banse, Christian J. Langenbach, Petr Machleidt 1

I Introduction 7

The Genesis of the Project "TA-Eastern Europe"
Gerhard Banse 9

II TheConcept 21

Science, Democracy and Technological Risks
Jean-Jacques Salomon 23

Concepts of Information Society and the Social Function of Information
Gotthard Bechmann 37

The Way Towards a Knowledge Society.
Some Barriers not only for Countries in Transition
Lech W. Zacher 53

Problems of the Production and Application of Knowledge in a Societal Transformation. The Czech Republic's Approach to Knowledge Society
Stanislav Provaznik, Adolf Filäcek, Petr Machleidt 61

Innovation and Financial Intensity of R&D in Poland
as the Polish Approach to the Knowledge Society
Ewa Okoń-Horodyńska 75

Russian Way to Information Society and
New Understanding of Information Security (Statement)
Dimitri V. Efremenko 89

III The Application Fields of TA 93

Information Technology and Organisational Change.
The Concept of Technological Practice
Gerd Schienstock 95

Data - Information - Knowledge.
A Trail of a Technological Enlightenment
Klaus Kornwachs 109

Information Technology.
The Forgotten Dimension of Modernisation
Otto Ulrich 125

Threats of the Global Net-Internet.
The State of Development and Inquiry over the Information Society in Poland
Andrzej Kiepas 133

Scientific and Technological Progress, Democracy, Participation and Technology Assessment in Russia
VitalyG. Gorokhov 141

Transformation of Society and Values in Slovakia
Pavel Fobel 153

IV The Judgement 161

Rationality and the Use of Language.
Technology Assessment for Shaping the Knowledge Society
Armin Grunwald 163

Knowledge- and Value-Prerequisites of Evaluation and Decision-Making
Ladislav Tondl 179

Ethical Norms for the Selection and Transfer of Knowledge
Stefan Bemdes 193

List of Authors 205