

Contents

Acknowledgements — V

Doris Bachmann-Medick and Jens Kugele

Introduction: Migration – Frames, Regimes, Concepts — 1

I: The Power of Images and the Imaginary

Christine Bischoff

Migration and the Regime of the Gaze: A Critical Perspective on Concepts and Practices of Visibility and Visualization — 21

Heidrun Friese

Framing Mobility: Refugees and the Social Imagination — 45

Werner Schiffauer

Migration and the Structure of the Imaginary — 63

II: (Border) Regimes

Sabine Hess

Border as Conflict Zone: Critical Approaches on the Border and Migration Nexus — 83

Charlton Payne

Displaced Papers: Keeping Records of Persons on the Move — 101

Paul Mecheril

Orders of Belonging and Education: Migration Pedagogy as Criticism — 121

III: Stories, Histories, and Politics

Wulf Kansteiner

Unsettling Crime: Memory, Migration, and Prime Time Fiction — 141

Friederike Eigler

Post/Memories of Forced Migration at the End of the Second World War:
Novels by Walter Kempowski and Ulrike Draesner — 167

Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez

Conceptualizing the Coloniality of Migration: On European Settler Colonialism-Migration, Racism, and Migration Policies — 193

Kader Konuk

What Does Exile Have to Do with Us? Academic Freedom in Turkey — 211

IV: New Contexts – Changing Concepts

Evangelos Karagiannis and Shalini Randeria

Exclusion as a Liberal Imperative: Culture, Gender, and the Orientalization of Migration — 229

Heike Greschke

Family Life in the Digital Age of Globalization: Critical Reflections on ‘Integration’ — 253

Doris Bachmann-Medick

Migration as Translation — 273

Notes on Contributors — 295

Index — 301