

Contents

Foreword, Achim Steiner (GTZ)
Introduction and Summary, Michael Schönhuth (Trier University)	1

Part One The Lectures

Two Steps Forward, One Step Back? A Critical Self-Reflection of Social Science Involvement in GTZ Over the Last 10 Years, Uwe Kievelitz (GTZ)	8
Development Projects and Science: Demands Made by Decision-Makers in the Administration on their Cultural-Science Advisers, Uwe Simson (BMZ)	18
Optimizing the Use of Social Science Know-How in Development Cooperation, Hans-Dieter Evers (Bielefeld University)	22
Sociologists in a Development Agency: Observations from the World Bank, Michael M. Cernea (The World Bank)	28
The Social Anthropological Contribution to Swedish Development Cooperation, Gunilla Olsson (SIDA)	39
The Link Between Advisory Work and Academic Research and Teaching: Perspectives from a Supplier Institution for Development Cooperation, Alan W. Rew (University of Wales)	45
The Model of Swiss Development Cooperation, Annick Tonti (SDC)	54
The Role of Social Scientists in Development: The Norwegian Experience, Eduardo P. Archetti (University of Oslo)	58

Part Two The Working Groups

Working Group 1: "Institutionalizing a Working Relationship between the Agencies and the Social Sciences"	69
---	----

Working Group 2: "Promoting Local Socio-Cultural Know-How in Partner Countries"	72
Working Group 3: "Alternative Profiles of Sociologists / Anthropologists in Development Cooperation"	75 ✓
Appendix:
AGEE (Working Group on Development Anthropology of the German Society for Anthropology): "Profile of the AGE"	81
List of Participants	83