

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: From Slavery to the Presidency..... Venise T. Berry	xi
Part 1: Institutional, Societal, and Political Issues
Chapter One: Black Racial Identity: Promoting Academic Achievement and Excellence, Resisting Stereotypes, and the Myth of Acting White..... Tabbye M. Chavous, Seanna Leath, and Bridget L. Richardson	3
Chapter Two: The NFL's Rooney Rule: A Theoretical Analysis of Its Societal Influence	19
John A. Fortunato and Jerome D. Williams
Chapter Three: In God's Favor: Prosperity Gospel in the 21st Century	31
Kayla Renée Wheeler

Chapter Four: Race and Racism: Inequalities in the Criminal Justice System	43
Stephana Colbert
Chapter Five: Attaining Wealth: The African American Struggle for the "American Dream"	61
LaToya T. Brackett
Chapter Six: Learning from History: Contemporary Issues in Black and Africana Studies	73
De Anna Reese and Malik Simba
Chapter Seven: To Form a More Perfect Union: Frames of Double Consciousness in Presidential Candidate Barack Obama's Race Speech	87
Anita Fleming-Rife
Part 2: Social, Cultural, and Community Issues
Chapter Eight: Pain, Chronic Disease, and the ACA: Implications for Better Healthcare in the Black Community.	99
Staja Q. Booker and Tamara A. Baker
Chapter Nine: Big, Black, and Beautiful Women: Health at Every Size Offers a New Paradigm	115
E-K Daufin
Chapter Ten: Birds of a Feather? Black Men's Experiences and Behavior in Marriage and Romantic Relationships	131
Armon R. Perry, Derrick R. Brooms, and Siobhan E. Smith
Chapter Eleven: Fifty Shades of Brown: Understanding the Social, Sensual, and Sexual Lives of Black American Women	145
Asher Pimpleton and Nikita Murry
Chapter Twelve: Interracial Relationships: Attitudes among Heterosexual College-Educated African American Women.	159
Danielle M. Wallace and Sonja Peterson-Lewis

Chapter Thirteen: Cultural Racism and Violence in African American Communities	181
William Oliver
Part 3: Media, Pop Culture, and Technology Issues
Chapter Fourteen: The Rise of Urban Fiction.	195
Kristina Graaff and Vanessa Irvin
Chapter Fifteen: An Affair to Remember: Hip Hop and the Feminist Perspective	207
Donnetrice C. Allison
Chapter Sixteen: (Un)Comfortable Contact? Viewing Race and Interaction in 25 Years of Super Bowl Commercials through the Lens of Social Distance	221
Ernest L. Wiggins and Kenneth Campbell
Chapter Seventeen: The Construction of Black Diasporic Identities in News Discourse on Immigration in the U.S. Black Press	235
Ilia Rodríguez
Chapter Eighteen: Now You See Me: The Visibility of Whiteness in Black Context Films.	257
Omotayo O. Banjo
Chapter Nineteen: Black Masculinity and Representation in Popular Culture: A Case Study of Quentin Tarantino's Film Django Unchained	271
Tammie Jenkins
Chapter Twenty: Bridging the Digital Divide: The Case of Black Twitter as a 21st-Century Platform for Cultural Expression	285
George L. Daniels, Theodoris Morris, and Ellisa Bray
About the Contributors.	295