

Contents

Introduction. The Problem Can Be a Solution	1
1 When We Talk about Stigma	9
2 A History of Violence: Mental Illness in the Media	23
3 “Us” and “Them”: Media & Stigma	35
4 Where It Starts: Understanding the Creation of Media Content	47
5 Shaping the Agenda: Making Mental Health a “Top Issue”	59
6 The Power of Celebrity: How Our Identification with Media Characters and Personalities Can Combat Stigma	69
7 Meet John: Using Mediated Contact to Challenge Stereotypes	81
8 People Like Me: How Social Media Can Connect Us with Communities	93
9 Protest: Calling for Change Via News and Social Media	103

10	Educating the Masses: The Potential of Media and Mental Health Literacy	115
11	Walk in My Digital Shoes: Using Games & VR to Nurture Empathy	127
12	The Song (No Longer) Remains the Same: Mental Health Messages in Music	139
13	What Can We Do? Conclusions and Action Items	151
	Index	163