

Contents

Tables and Figures	viii
Acknowledgments	ix
1 From the Birth of the Modern World to the Age of Limits	1
Ages and labels	1
Disciplinary approaches to politics, economics and culture	6
The emergence of free markets, rapid-discovery science, and democratic states	9
Free markets	9
Three cultures, one structural	15
Politics: democratic states and citizens	18
Differentiation and macro-social orders	21
Stratification: elites and people	36
Global powers?	39
From the Age of Extremes to the Age of Limits	42
2 Convergence and Divergence	47
Sweden versus America	48
Americanization or Globalization?	58
Individualism in Sweden and America	59
3 Paths towards Pluralist Democracy: Liberal versus Radical Interpretations	64
Liberal and radical endpoints	66
The state and economic development	68
The state's fiscal growth and economic transfers	70
A radical account of the varieties of capitalism	73
Three types	73
Liberalism and the varieties of capitalism	77
Comparing the radical and liberal accounts	81
4 Free and Unfree Markets	87
The emergence of disembedding	88
Markets and their mechanism	94
Financial markets	99

	The economic order: embeddedness versus disembeddedness	103
	Beyond disciplinary turf wars	109
5	The Paradoxes of Science, Technology and Social Change	114
	The production of scientific knowledge and technological innovation	117
	Technology in everyday life: the example of information and communication technologies	122
	Globalization, science and technology, and social theory	127
6	The Limits to Transforming the Environment	131
	Disciplinary fragmentation and lack of realism	132
	Accelerated transformations and an uncontrolled experiment	133
	Technology, social change, and the environment	135
	Energy infrastructures and developmental paths	136
	Counteracting limits	139
7	Three Cultures	148
	Religion	150
	Consumption	152
	Science and technology	154
	Patterns of culture	156
	The limits of culture in everyday life	157
8	Modernization and the Politics of Development	162
	The puzzle of China	162
	Openness to external influence	163
	The pattern of the Chinese economy	165
	Take-off and leap ahead	166
	How capitalist?	170
	Political domination and legitimacy	171
	Nascent democracy?	173
	Spectacle and predicament	175
	India's fragmented populist democracy	177
	Colonialism to independence	179
	From successful to populist democracy	181
	Economic development and social divides	182
	Cultural conflict and diversity	184
	A fragmented state?	186
	India, China, and modernization	190

9 Social Theory in the Face of the Future	194
The limits of markets	202
The limits of culture, and of science and technology	204
The limits of the state and politics	206
From comparative-historical sociology to political philosophy	209
Notes	221
References	231
Index	247