

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on Contributors	viii
Introduction by Evelyne Micollier	xiii

PART ONE: SEXUAL CULTURES – CAUGHT BETWEEN TRADITIONS AND TRANSITIONS

1 Social Significance of Commercial Sex work: Implicitly Shaping a Sexual Culture? Evelyne Micollier	3
2 Three 'Red Light Districts' in China Pan Suiming	23
3 Japanese Sex Workers: Between Choice and Coercion Wim Lunsing	54
4 Dutiful Daughters and Temporary Wives: Economic Dependency on Commercial Sex in Vietnam Ian Walters	76
5 What is Known about Gender, the Constructs of Sexuality and Dictates of Behaviour in Vietnam as a Confucian and Socialist Society and their Impact on the Risk of HIV/AIDS Epidemic Paula-Frances Kelly	98
6 The Broken Women of Cambodia Annuska Derks	127

PART TWO: THE SOCIAL CONSTRUCTION OF SEXUAL RISK IN THE LIGHT OF STDs/AIDS CONTROL

7 Public Health Policy vs. Colonial Laissez-Faire: STDs and Prostitution in Republican Shanghai Christian Henriot	159
--	-----

8	Representations of 'Us' and 'Others' in the AIDS News Discourse: A Taiwanese Experience Mei-Ling Hsu, Wen-Chi Lin and Tsui-Sung Wu	183
9	AIDS and Civil Society in Taiwan Evelyne Micollier	223
10	Sex Education for Vietnamese Adolescents in the Context of the HIV/AIDS Epidemic: The NGOs, the School, the Family and the Civil Society Marie-Eve Blanc	241
11	Sex Work in Times of AIDS, Caught between the Visible and the Invisible Ivan Wolffers, Paula Kelly and Anke van der Kwaak	263