

Contents

| | |
|----------|----|
| Foreword | ix |
|----------|----|

Part I – Religion, body, Dalits

| | |
|--|---|
| The use of religious resources in interreligious development cooperation – the case of oppressive body constructions among Devadasi and Dalit children Bernhard Ortmann | 1 |
|--|---|

| | |
|---|----|
| Dalit body without God: Challenges for epistemology and theology Y. T. Vinayaraj | 27 |
|---|----|

| | |
|---|----|
| Religious belief and worldly matters: Protestant missions in colonial India Catherine Stenzl | 37 |
|---|----|

Part II – Children and women

| | |
|---|----|
| Battered bodies and scarred emotions of labouring children in India: Interrogating dichotomies, envisioning embodiment Rohan Gideon | 59 |
|---|----|

| | |
|--|----|
| Growing up as a gendered person Anindita Chakrabarty | 71 |
|--|----|

| | |
|---|----|
| Relating women's experience of fatigue – weakness and reported life-events from outpatient clinics in India Vasudeo Paralikar | 85 |
|---|----|

Part III – Foreign worlds

- “Now, in my fiftieth year, I venerate the sight of the abdomen or chest laid open”.
Abraham Verghese’s explorations of the body 109
Martin Tamcke
- Embodying the world beyond three seas:
India in the imagination of the mediaeval Rus’ 119
Stanislau Paulau
- Diaspora, embodied culture & the state 137
Swati Shirwadkar
- Germans, Jews and Indians –
negotiating nation, religion, and identity in the Enlightenment 153
Marion Grau

Part IV – Different and the same

- Church: A rainbow community of the beloved and equals 171
George Zachariah
- Intercultural ‘embodiment’ of international law
of human rights: Indian perspectives 189
Beatriz Barreiro Carril
- Making the other – loving the other – making love to the other: The role of body practices for delineating gender and culture in Kurban Said’s novel Ali and Nino 205
Anja Hänsch

| | |
|--|-----|
| Body, emotion and mind: A theological perspective Hubert Manohar Watson | 229 |
| Contributors | 243 |