

Contents

Acknowledgements	1
Centres and Cycles of Accumulation Lissa Roberts	3
Dutch and Spanish Global Networks of Knowledge in the Early Modern Period: Structures, Connections, Changes Karel Davids	29
“I Giue Thee Leave to Publish” New Atlantis and Francis Bacon’s Republic of Knowledge Pete Langman	53
A Wonderful Little Book. The Dissertatio Astronomica by Johannes Phocylides Holwarda (1618-1651) Arjen Dijkstra	73
The Company’s Garden and the (Ex)change of Nature and Knowledge at Cape of Good Hope (1652-1700) Alette Fleischer	101
Accumulating the World: Collecting and Commodifying ‘Globalism’ in Early Modern Europe Benjamin Schmidt	129
The Visitor’s View: Early Modern Tourism and the Polyvalence of Anatomical Exhibits Rina Knoeff	155
Drawings, Ships and Spices: Accumulation at the Dutch East India Company Johan de Jong	177
Mennonite Centres of Accumulation: Martyrs and Instruments Ernst Hamm	205

Contents

Layers of Meaning, from Scientific Instrument to Exhibition at the Museum Boerhaave Tim Huisman	231
Biographical sketches	255
Bibliography	259
Index	286