

Table of Contents

|                                                                        |            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Preface .....                                                   | vii        |
| 1. Introduction .....                                           | 1          |
| 2. Cooking Up Paragraphs, Articles, Occurrences: Colonial. .... | 11  |
| and Revolutionary America                                       |            |
| 3. My Pen and Press Are the Only Formidable Weapons I Have .... | 43  |
| Ever Used: The Early Republic                                   |            |
| 4. The Great Organ of Social Life, the Prime Element of ....    | 69  |
| Civilization: The Antebellum Era and Civil War                  |            |
| 5. We Expect Great Results from This Work: Post-Civil War ....  | 99  |
| and Yellow Journalism                                           |            |
| 6. There Is Filth on the Floor and It Must Be Scraped Up: ....  | 129 |
| The Muckrakers and Press of the Early 20th Century              |            |
| 7. My Medium Is Everywhere: New Media and the New Century .     | 157 |
| 8. My Notebook Still Carries Bloodstains: The World Wars. ....  | 189 |
| and the Cold War                                                |            |
| 9. The Whole World Is Watching: The Journalism of Change, ....  | 221 |
| 1950s-1970s                                                     |            |

|                                                                            |            |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 10. The Scramble to Fill 24 Hours of Air Time: The End of . . . . . | 257 |
| the Twentieth Century                                               |            |
| 11. Show-Me Journalism: Media Transformation in the . . . . .       | 277 |
| Twenty-First Century                                                |            |
| Epilogue. . . . .                                                   | 295 |
| Bibliography . . . . .                                              | 297 |
| Index. . . . .                                                      | 317 |