

Contents

General Editor's Preface	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Foreword	xi
Acknowledgments	xvii

Introduction—Greet Death: Post-9/11 Music and the Sound of Decay	1
Joseph P. Fisher and Brian Flota

PART I      ELECTRIC DREAMS: THE MEDIUM AND THE MESSAGE

1	Rock, Enroll: Music and Militarization since 9/11	13
	Samuel Dwinell
2	Music, Terrorism, Response: The Conditioning Logic of Code and Networks	31
	Benjamin J. Robertson
3	Technostalgia and the Resurgence of Cassette Culture	43
	Craig Eley

PART II      HAIL TO THE THIEF: POST-9/11 EXPERIMENTAL MUSIC

4	Why Protest Albums Can't Teach Dissent: The Emergent Complexity of Post-9/11 Protest	57
	Conrad Amenta
5	On a Maddening Loop: Post-9/11 Rubble Music	69
	Isaac Vayo
6	Terrorism and the Politics of Improvisation	79
	Rob Wallace
7	Nine Inch Nails' Year Zero and the Biopolitics of Media Convergence	93
	Katheryn Wright

PART III    WHAT'S GOING ON, AGAIN?: PROTEST AND NOSTALGIA

- |    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 8  | Casualties of War: Hip-Hop and the Old Racial Politics of the Post-9/11 EraAisha Staggers            | 107 |
| 9  | That Was Now, This Is Then: Recycling Sixties Style in Post-9/11 MusicJeffrey Roessner               | 115 |
| 10 | A New Morning in Amerika: Conservative Politics and Punk Rock in the 2000sMatthew Siblo              | 129 |
| 11 | “Agony & Irony”: Indie Culture’s Sardonic Response to America’s Post-9/11 DevolutionS. Todd Atchison | 145 |

PART IV    IDLE AMERICAN, AMERICAN IDOL: MAINSTREAM MEDIA AND IDEOLOGY

- |    |  |     |
|----|--|-----|
| 12 | Post-Dixie Chicks Country: Carrie Underwood and the Negotiation of Feminist Country IdentityMolly Brost | 161 |
| 13 | Walking the Great Line: Underoath and Christian Fundamentalism in Punk Rock after 9/11Gerrit Roessler   | 173 |
| 14 | War Is Heavy Metal: Soundtracking the US War in IraqSteve Waksman                                       | 185 |
|    | Index   | 207 |