
Contents

Introduction	1
Cerri A. Banks and Susan M. Pliner
Integrating Intersectionality, Transforming Learning	14
Khuram Hussain
"We Talk about Race Too Much in This Class!" Complicating the Essentialized Woman through Intersectional Pedagogy	32
Kim A. Case, Angela R. Miller, and Shaprie Bambacigno Jackson
Conflict Resolution Education and Intersectionality	49
Leah Wing
"Check Your Head": Teaching and Learning the Intersectionality of Whiteness	69
Anna Creadick, with Jalisa Whitley, Patrice Thomas, Amber Jackson, Katy Wolfe, Martin Quigley, and Reina Apraez
Using a Pedagogy of Intersectionality in the Community College Classroom	85
Linda McCarthy and Laura M. Larson
The Rhetorical Nature of Intersecting Identities: Actualizing Intersectionality in the Classroom	101
Neeta Bhasin
A.L.L.I.E.D. Across Our Differences: Blogging and the (Un)Reconciled Politics of Intersectionality	116
Lesley Bogad, Ibilolia Holder, Juanita Montes de Oca, Andres Ramirez, and Chris Susi
Oprah and Obama Made It, Why Can't Everyone Else? Utilizing Intersectional Pedagogy to Challenge Post-racial Ideologies within the Higher Education Classroom	131
Jennifer Esposito and Alison Happel
Intersectional Pedagogy and Transformative Learning	148
Susan M. Pliner, Cerri A. Banks, and Ashley M. Tapscott
Intersectionality and My Practice of Teaching Mathematics	162
Jennifer Bowen

Daring Pedagogy: Dialoguing about Intersectionality and Social Justice	179
Julia R. Johnson, Mary González, Cris Ray, Jessica Hager, Diana Leon, Sally Spalding, and Tiffany Brigham
Reframing “Diversity” in Higher Education: An Argument for an Intersectional Approach	201
Liz Braun
Afterword: Final Thoughts	217
Cerri A. Banks and Susan M. Pliner
Contributors	219
Index	227