

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	ix
Notes on Contributors	xi
 Introduction: Comparing Media Systems in Central and Eastern Europe: Politics, Economy, Culture Sabina Mihelj and John Downey	 1
1 Post-communist Political Systems and Media Freedom and Independence Karol Jakubowicz	15
2 The Interplay of Politics and Economics in Transitional Societies Colin Sparks	41
3 Between Segmentation and Integration: Media Systems and Ethno-cultural Diversity in Central and Eastern Europe Sabina Mihelj	63
4 Gender (In)equity in Post-socialist Media Mojca Pajnik	89
5 Transnational Capital, Media Differentiation, and Institutional Isomorphism in Central and Eastern European Media Systems John Downey	113
6 Transnational Media Regulation in Central and Eastern Europe Alison Harcourt	137
7 Back to the Local? Transnational Media Flows and Audience Consumption Patterns in Central and Eastern Europe Václav Štětka	157
Conclusion John Downey and Sabina Mihelj	189
Index	197