

Table of Contents

Preface	1
Osamu Hattori
Traditionalism and Japanese Acceptance of Foreign Culture	3
Yukuji Okita
Philipp Franz von Siebold's Transcultural Research Methods	17
Viktoria Eschbach-Szabo
A German Doctor learned Classical Medicine and Japanese Doctors and Practitioners learned "Modern" Medicine: The German-Japanese Relations in the Sector of Acupuncture in the Post-War Era	29
Osamu Hattori
German Aesthetic Consciousness and the "TSUN-DERE" Character of Asuka in the Japanese Animation Evangelion	53
Hiroshi Okabayashi
The Language of Otaku – Analyzing the Japanese Internet Story "Train Man"	59
Michaela Oberwinkler
The Idealization of Boy Love: The Influence of Thomas Mann's Death in Venice (Der Tod in Venedig) upon Hagio Moto's The Heart of Thomas (Tōma no shinzō)	73
Junko Saeki

Transcultural Dialogue – Processes of Understanding Experiences of International Exchange in the Framework of the German – East Asian Forum of Sciences and Humanities Karin Moser v. Filseck	83
Are Judicial Reforms in Japan Leading to Social Change? Hans-Peter Marutschke	93
Intercultural Studies through Exchange Programs - Cases of Japanese Students in Germany Akemi Hamada	117
Characteristics of Neesima's English Letters: From the Viewpoint of Readability and Vocabulary Kenji Kitao	127
New Loanwords in Japanese and German Martina Ebi	147