

Contents

Foreword	Dell Hymes	ix
Acknowledgements		xiii
Notes on Contributors		xiv
Introduction: Critique and the Deconstruction of Anthropological Authority
Peter Pels and Lorraine Nencel		1
PART I RATIONALITY AND ETHNOCENTRISM
1	Anthropological Doubt Ton Lemaire	22
2	Participatory Research and Healing Witchcraft: An Essay in the Anthropology of Crisis Gerrit Huizer	40
PART II POSTMODERN INSTANCES
3	'Oh, Research, Very Good!': On Fieldwork and Representation Robert Pool	59
4	A Post-modern In-stance Stephen A. Tyler	78
PART III CRITICAL CONFRONTATIONS WITH POSTMODERNISM
5	Further Notes on the Adventures of Phallus in Blunderland Jonathan Friedman	95
6	Women and the Orient: A Note on Difference Annelies Moors	114
7	Fighting Symbols and Structures: Postmodernism, Feminism and Women's Health Annemiek Richters	123

PART IV GRASPING THE SUBJECT:
'OUR' DILEMMAS

8 Time and Difference in Anthropological Writing Olivia Harris	145
9 Dialectics of a Dialogical Ideal: Studying Down, Studying Sideways and Studying Up Joke Schrijvers	162
10 Dilemmas of Critical Anthropology Johannes Fabian	180
References	203
Index	219