
Contents

1	The Framework, An Introduction	1
1.1	Hexen?	2
1.2	An Early Modern Cultural Transitional Phase.	10
1.3	From the Heretic —to the Witch -Process	15
1.4	Witch -Persecution: Model of a Solvable Social Problem	21
1.5	The 'Frame'	23
1.5.1	Three Long-Term Developments	23
1.5.2	Phases.	25
 Part I The Clerical Witch Model: How the Witch Crime was Invented
2	The Magical Space as a Mental Frame: The Clerical Playing Field	49
2.1	A Magical World View.	51
2.2	In a Linguistically Understood World	55
2.3	As a Three-Dimensional Space: Divine, Magical, Ambivalent.	59
2.4	The Dilemma of an Early "Natural Science".	64
2.5	In a Clerically Outlined Witch World.	68
2.6	As a Chance of a Clerical Defining Attribution.	75
2.7	A 'Magical' Conclusion.	85
3	Prehistory	123
3.1	Folk Belief and Germanic Laws	124
3.2	The Church.	126
3.3	Canon Episcopi (906)	129
3.4	Summary	134

4	From Heretics to the witches?	141
4.1	A Time Between Heresy and Witchcraft	142
4.1.1	A Transitional Time of Crises	142
4.1.2	Seamless Transition? Two Cases of Historical Falsification	143
4.2	The Time of the Learned Magicians	145
4.3	The Political Sorcerer Trials in the 14th Century	149
4.3.1	At the French Court	149
4.3.2	At the Papal Court in Avignon	151
4.4	Comparison of Heretics and Wizards	152
4.5	The Full Development: Conspiracy and Witch-Flight	153
4.5.1	The Diabolical Conspiracy: Two Early Processes	154
4.5.2	Two Conspiracy Models	156
4.5.3	The Vaudois—'Waldensian Witches '	158
4.5.4	When Witches Learned to Fly	161
4.5.5	Two Model Processes in France (1453, 1459)	163
4.6	Recap: A Long-Wavelength Transformation	164
5	The Witch: Construction or Reality?	175
5.1	Construction and Consequences	176
5.2	'Magic' and Magical 'Successes'	179
5.3	The Sabbath Conspiracy	182
5.4	Satan	187
6	The Witch Propaganda	209
6.1	Discursive Devil's Circles	210
6.2	The Witch-Propaganda	216
6.3	The Council of Basel (1431–1449)	223
6.4	The Hexenhammer as an Example (1486/1487)	225
6.5	A Missed Opportunity or the Time of Incubation	236
6.6	A Short Interim Conclusion of the Long History	240

Part II The Legal Persecution of Witches: How the Crime of Witchcraft was Realised

7	The 'Normal' Witchcraft	269
7.1	Alan Macfarlane: Essex (1970)	270
7.2	Keith Thomas: England in general (1971)	273
7.3	Robin Briggs: Lothringen (1996)	275
7.4	Eva Labouvie, Walter Rummel: Saar-Mosel-Gebiet (1991)	282

7.5	Rainer Walz: The Persecutions in the County of Lippe (1993)	285
7.6	An Interim Conclusion: A Rural Witch Pattern	290
8	The Ruling Criminal Justice System: The Legal Playing Field	309
8.1	The Influence of the Ruling Criminal Justice	311
8.2	The General Development of the Criminal Justice System	313
8.3	Bambergensis (1507) and Carolina (1532)	318
8.4	A 'Legal' Development	321
8.5	The Playing Field of the Lawyers	323
8.5.1	Example: Schwäbisch-Gmünd (1617)	325
8.5.2	'Terrible' Lawyers	326
8.6	The Problem of Proof, Torture	327
8.7	The Spanish-Roman Inquisition: Myth and Reality	330
8.7.1	A Myth: The Inquisition	331
8.7.2	Salazar and the Basque Witch -Mania (1609–1614)	332
8.7.3	The Roman Inquisition (1542)	337
8.7.4	An Ambivalent Contrast Program	339
8.8	Three Legal-Political Levels	341
8.8.1	The Imperial Level	341
8.8.2	The Great Territories	343
8.8.3	Municipal Defense Struggle Against Claims of Sovereignty	347
8.9	Interim Conclusion: The Legal Playing Field	350
9	The Mass Persecutions	385
9.1	Witch Commissioners and Witch Committees	388
9.2	Rebelling Townspeople	394
9.3	Calw As a Counter-Example (1683/1684)	397
9.4	The Spiritual Foundations of Ellwangen, Eichstett, Mergentheim	398
9.5	The Larger Spiritual Territories	403
9.6	A Short Interim Conclusion: Institutionalization	407
10	Possession and Child Witches-Hexen	423
10.1	Possession and Exorcism	424
10.1.1	General Characteristics	426
10.1.2	Paderborn As an Example (1656-1661)	431
10.1.3	The Witches of Salem (1692)	432

10.1.4	'The Devils of Loudun' (1632-1637).....	437
10.1.5	An Interim Conclusion: Possession and Exorcism	441
10.2	Child-Witches	445
10.2.1	Augsburg Children- Witch -Processes	447
10.2.2	The Mora Excesses in Sweden (1668-1676)	453
10.2.3	The Zauberbuben-Prozesse in Bayern (1675-1740) ...	455
10.2.4	Interim Conclusion: Children, Adolescents As a "Social Problem"	460
 Part III The Witch Politics Game: How the Crime of Witchcraft was Decriminalised
11	For the Conditions of An Analysis	497
11.1	Our View "From the Outside"	498
11.1.1	Our View of the Excesses.	498
11.1.2	The Political Temptation: Secondary Witch Myths	499
11.2	The Problem of a Causal Explanation	502
11.3	The Socio-Cultural View: 'Knowledge and Power'	506
11.3.1	On the 'Mentality' in Flux	507
11.3.2	On the Relationship Between Heresy and Witchcraft	510
11.3.3	To the 'Leading Personalities'	514
11.3.4	In the "Emerging State"	515
11.4	On the "Reality" of Witchcraft	516
11.5	A 'Methodical' Conclusion	524
12	End of the Witch Persecution: Tolerance	539
12.1	Persecution-poor Countries	540
12.1.1	The Netherlands	540
12.1.2	England	542
12.1.3	The Palatinate.	547
12.1.4	Three Eastern European Countries: Poland, Hungary, Bohemia	550
12.1.5	Interim Conclusion: A Pragmatic- 'Bourgeois' Mentality	550
12.2	The Role of Large Cities	552
12.2.1	An Urban-worldly Mentality	552
12.2.2	The Munich 'Witch-Wars' in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries	556
12.2.3	Interim Conclusion: A Professionalized Civil Service.	560

13	Witch Belief: Skepticism and Criticism	583
13.1	A Skepticism Present From the Beginning	584
13.2	The Protestant Solution	589
13.2.1	Two Counter-Strategies	590
13.2.2	The Confessional 'Relativization'	592
13.3	The "Procedural" Strategy: Spee's Cautio Criminalis (1631)...	597
13.3.1	On the Basis of the Carolina	597
13.3.2	Friedrich von Spee: The Cautio Criminalis (1631)...	598
13.4	The Executor of the Will: Christian Thomasius (1701).....	605
13.4.1	De Crimine Magiae (1701)	606
13.4.2	Processus Inquisitorii Contra Sagas (1712)	608
13.4.3	Thomasius, Bekker, Spee: An 'Inner-Legal Criticism'	609
13.5	Up to the Present Day	612
14	A conclusion: Witches as an Instrument of a Symbolic "Politics" Game	643
14.1	An Autonomous Witch Construction as a Pawn.	645
14.2	Why Witches are Women	653
14.3	In General Power Play	658
14.3.1	In a Moralizing, Early-absolutist State	660
14.3.2	Consolidation Through Confessionalisation	663
14.3.3	Legitimizing Functions of Rule	666
14.3.4	Consolidation Through Justice Rule	668
14.4	The Professionalized Control	674
14.4.1	Theologians and Jurists as Constructors	675
14.4.2	An Ideologically Supporting witch -net	677
14.5	A Short Resume: A Hybrid Solution Process	679
	Appendix: Reading Recommendations	705
	References	707